Retail inflation at 16-month high, touches 3.93% in May

PUSHPITA DEVY @ New Delhi

RETAIL inflation rose to a 16-month high of 3.93% in May, primarily due to the increase in fuel prices and cost of services such as restaurants and accommodation, data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI) on Friday showed. Despite the uptick, inflation remained well within the Reserve Bank of India's target of 4%.

According to MoSPI, the rise in headline inflation was driven by higher prices in food and beverages, personal care, social protection, restaurants and accommodation services, as well as tobacco and intoxicants.

While rural inflation rose to 4.25% in May from 3.85% in April, urban inflation increased to 3.53%. Food inflation, measured by the All India Consumer Food Price Index, touched 4.78%.

Soumya Kanti Ghosh, group chief economic advisor at State Bank of India, attributed the increase to higher fuel prices and supply-side disruptions. "The impact of increased petrol and diesel prices was clearly visible, with transport inflation rising by 176 basis points to 1.8% in May, while a slight LPG shortage pushed inflation in restaurants and accommodation services up by 154 basis points to 5.7% from 4.2% in April."

US-Iran deal close

Signing ceremony may be held in Geneva as early as Sunday

AGENCIES @ Dubai/Washington

THE White House is signaling optimism about a prospective peace deal with Tehran, voicing confidence that it will wrap up the deal with support from Iran and Israel after weeks of negotiations on the most intractable issues, including the future of Iran's nuclear program.

A senior US administration official, on condition of anonymity, said the deal was 80% to 85% done and that the US side believes "most of the people who have authority" in the Iranian government want to sign onto the deal.

Sources say a signing ceremony could be held in Geneva, Switzerland, as early as Sunday. A signed proposal would trigger a 60-day period for "technical" negotiations on how to implement the deal and resolve remaining issues, according to a US official. Plans for the next round of peace talks are already underway.

Separately, Pakistan's Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif said Friday that the final text of a US-Iran peace deal had been agreed upon.

Earlier, Iranian Foreign Minister Araghchi had suggested progress in the negotiations, saying the "Islamabad Memorandum of Understanding has never been closer".

We can now confirm that a final, agreed upon text of the peace deal has been reached...

US diplomat summoned

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

US President Donald Trump on Friday blamed Iran for the attacks on Indian ships leaving the Strait of Hormuz, describing the incident as "totally unacceptable." In a post on Truth Social, he said: "...Their (Iran's) totally rebuffed drone attack last night against Indian ships leaving the Hormuz Strait is TOTALLY UNACCEPTABLE."

Trump's remarks came hours after New Delhi summoned US Chargé d'Affaires Jason Meeks for the second time on Friday to lodge a strong protest over recent attacks on vessels near that killed three Indian seafarers off the coast of Oman. The government conveyed its deep concern reiterated India's opposition to the use of force against civilian shipping. The developments added a new layer of diplomatic complexity, with Washington publicly blaming Iran while India has raised concerns with the US over the attacks.

Worker: Ploy to target D'sthala, Prakash Raj spoke to me

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A sanitation worker, who had claimed to have buried bodies of victims at Dharmasthala, moved the Karnataka High Court, seeking directions to the Special Investigation Team (SIT) to file a final report in the crime registered before the Dharmasthala police station. He also sought action against conspirators, including individuals, YouTubers and others named in the preliminary enquiry report, and to consider the complaint dated December 18, 2025.

He alleged that activist Girish Mattannavar dialled actor Prakash Raj's number and handed over the phone to him. The actor, who spoke in Tamil, told him to tell the authorities whatever Mattannavar had instructed him to and promised to come and hug him.

Just because name crops up, one is not criminal: Min

Even as an allegation involving actor Prakash Raj in the Dharmasthala skull case surfaced, Home Minister Priyank Kharge said on Friday that just because the actor-activist's name has cropped, it does not mean that he is a criminal. He told reporters that the court has asked the Special Investigation Team chief, and he has to reply to the court. "We cannot discuss it before the media," he added.

structured him to and promised to come and hug him.

The petitioner also alleged Mahesh Shetty Thimarodi informed him that the 'plan budget' (to execute the conspiracy) was approximately Rs 200 crore and promised him Rs 50 lakh if he cooperated and ensured that Dharmasthala Dharmadhikari Veerendra Heggade was sent to prison.

At one point, the petitioner said he asked Thimarodi and Mattannavar about their source of income to file such a frivolous litigation.

Initially, they were reluctant and did not disclose the source. But later on, they told him that they were receiving funds from Kerala and their major source of income is from a woman in Chitradurga, who used to send funds to trigger disturbance at the holy town.

Since this is an extremely sensitive matter, also has hurt the faith of millions of devotees, it is also my duty to respond to such doubts. At present, I am out of station and in another two days, I will personally come and respond through media friends. Until then, do not believe such rumour. Longer wait for final AI-171 air crash report

S LALITHA @ New Delhi

EXACTLY a year after Air India flight 171 crashed during takeoff at Ahmedabad, killing 260 passengers and crew, there was no closure for the family members of the victims as the much-awaited final probe report remained elusive.

Instead, the Aircraft Accident Investigations Bureau put out an interim statement, saying "The Final Report will be released upon completion of all investigative activities and the requisite international review and consultation processes prescribed under ICAO (International Civil Aviation Organisation) Annex 13."

The final report will take two-three more months for wrap-up, said a source familiar with the developments.

Asked about ICAO's recommendation on the final probe report into any major accident within 12 months of the incident, the source said, "It only encourages the submission of the report. It is not binding on us. Interim reports also can be submitted or statement on the progress too can be furnished, which is what we have done."

When asked what part of the report was pending, the source said since there was massive condemnation after the preliminary report was released on July 12, 2025, which attributed the accident to human error, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) had decided to carry out an inspection of the Boeing's Fuel Control Switch (FCS) in the US to be doubly sure as multiple reports and experts repeatedly spoke of its malfunctioning. AI-171's fuel switch moved to OFF shortly after take-off, resulting in the crash.

RESIDENTS BLOCK WORK ON ₹10-CRORE WASTE TRANSFER STATION ON 'PARK LAND'

Demand public consultation before project proceeds; BSWML says it's corporation land

MOHAMMED YACOUB @Bengaluru

RESIDENTS of Kasturinagar in Bengaluru Central City Corporation limits were taken by surprise on Friday when earth-movers arrived to begin excavation work for a proposed Rs 10-crore secondary waste transfer station on land that according to residents is designated as a park and playground.

According to members of the Residents' Welfare Association (RWA), a bhoomi puja for the project had recently been conducted. On Friday morning, residents were shocked to find excavation work commencing as early as 7 am. They immediately halted the work, expressing concerns that the facility would lead to pollution, increased rodent activity and other public health issues.

"The proposed project is coming up on land earmarked as a park and playground. Residents were not consulted before such a decision was taken. We demand that a public consultation be held before the project proceeds," said Raghu Ram, an RWA member.

Manjunath S, a resident whose house is located barely five metres from the proposed site on 1st A Cross, alleged that the project violates the provisions of the Karnataka Parks, Play-fields and Open Spaces (Preservation and Regulation) Act, 1985. He said the legislation protects public green spaces from being converted for other uses and ensures residents have access to safe recreational areas.

"Around 50 residents stopped the workers from digging in the park area. We have documents from the Bengaluru Development Authority showing that the land is reserved for a park and playground, and walking tracks have already been laid.

If a waste transfer station is allowed here, poor maintenance, corruption and other lacunae could turn the facility into a bane for the neighbourhood. Water and air pollution may increase, and residents will suffer as waste from across the Assembly constituency is brought here. Continuous movement of vehicles will also lead to noise pollution. That is why we are opposing the project," Manjunath said.

The residents expressed their apprehension with the commissioner of the Bengaluru Central City Corporation and the Chief Executive Officer of Bengaluru Solid Waste Management Limited (BSWML), expressing their concerns. They have also urged the corporation's Horticulture Department to protect the land, which they claim falls under its jurisdiction.

Responding to the residents' objections, Parishudh Ventures, which operates waste transfer stations in Koramangala, Chamarajpet and HBR Layout, said the public had been "misguided" about the project.

"The facility will not create any nuisance. Once operational, it will handle about 150 tonnes of waste daily. Residents will be taken to an existing facility nearby so they can see how it functions and clear their doubts," a senior engineer with Parishudh Ventures said.

A BSWML official said the proposed facility is being developed on corporation land, where only autorickshaws are currently parked. The official added that civic infrastructure, including a ward office, has previously been established on the site and that the waste transfer station will be taken up once all clearances are obtained.

Home minister wants strict enforcement of traffic rules

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

HOME Minister Priyank Karge on Friday visited the Bengaluru Traffic Management Centre and held discussions with officials on implementing a traffic management action plan with focus on strict enforcement of traffic rules and enhancing efficiency.

The minister also received a detailed briefing from the officials. Karge said Bengaluru's traffic is being managed effectively through the adoption of modern technologies and efforts would be made to further improve efficiency in the coming days. "An action plan will be formulated with a focus on road safety, strict enforcement of traffic regulations and improving the efficiency of the traffic police," said Karge.

Senior police officials informed the minister that while Bengaluru's annual population growth rate stands at 3.7%, the growth of vehicles is around 10%. As a leading city in employment generation and economic activity, Bengaluru has developed an effective traffic management system. The Bengaluru Traffic Police, which functions through four divisions and 53 police stations, manages traffic across a road network of nearly 14,000 km in a city with approximately 1.25 crore registered vehicles, officials said.

Karge also visited the Traffic Police Museum and observed the operation of the camera-tracking division. Director General and Inspector General of Police M A Saleem, City Police Commissioner Seemant Kumar Singh and other senior officials were present.

City artist's painting series being showcased at UN HQ

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BENGALURU-based artist and activist Namita Kulkarni's acclaimed painting series 'Colonialism and the Climate Crisis' is being exhibited at the United Nations in New York as part of the Canvas of Change exhibition from June 5 to July 10.

The series explores the links between historical and continuing colonial systems, environmental destruction and climate injustice. Kulkarni developed the works after studying how colonial-era extractive practices contributed to ecological damage and how their impacts continue to affect vulnerable communities.

Kulkarni's project was supported by the International Centre for Advocates Against Discrimination (ICAAD), a New York-based human rights organisation, through its Artivism initiative. She had applied for an ICAAD grant in December 2021 after seeing an open call for artists and was selected for the programme, which provided creative support and freedom to develop the series.

The artist said the climate crisis is often discussed only in terms of carbon emissions and solutions such as offsets, while its deeper historical roots are overlooked. Her work highlights climate change as a human rights issue and brings attention to indigenous perspectives and environmental inequalities.

The series gained further relevance after the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) highlighted colonialism as one of the historical and ongoing factors influencing the climate crisis in its Sixth Assessment Report released in 2022.

Three cops suspended for delay in registering FIR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THREE police personnel, including a former Kadugodi police inspector, were suspended for alleged dereliction of duty and delays in registering a murder case over the death of five-and-a-half-year-old P Vennela.

The suspended officers are Rangaswamy, former Kadugodi police inspector who is currently inspector of Electronics City traffic police station; Police Sub-Inspector Ningaraju, investigation officer (IO); and constable Halesh Nayak, who was then station writer.

Police said that initially an Unnatural Death Report (UDR) case was registered. However, despite the postmortem report indicating that the child had died due to suffocation, police allegedly failed to register a murder case or arrest the accused, thereby showing negligence in investigation.

In view of this lapse, orders were issued suspending the three police personnel. Based on a report submitted by the Joint Commissioner of Police (East), Bengaluru City Police Commissioner Seemant Kumar Singh ordered their suspension. Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) of Banaswadi sub-division, East Division, was appointed IO for the case.

The girl's aunt (father Praveen's sister), a doctor in England, sought the help of her classmate, an IPS officer who is Inspector General of Police (IGP) rank officer in the city. She sought help since Kadugodi police had not registered the case as murder, despite the findings of the forensic expert in the postmortem report, saying the girl had died of suffocation. It is said that Kadugodi police did not take the IGP's request seriously.

June 4: Murder case registered against Mohan and Priyanka; Mohan arrested

June 11: Priyanka arrested in Sakleshpur, Hassan dist

Kharge told on Friday that the three police personnel who had allegedly neglected their duties and violated legal procedures, were suspended with immediate effect. He explained that the postmortem report was received as early as April 4.

Once the report confirmed the death was suspicious, the officers should have treated it as a suspicious death, registered an FIR, and initiated investigation. However, they allegedly kept the case within the scope of a UDR and adopted delaying tactics at their level. "This amounts to serious dereliction of duty," the minister said.

Kharge said, the government would not tolerate departmental negligence or any actions that violate the law under any circumstances and stringent action would be taken after the complete investigation report is received.

THE PROBE

A police officer said that Priyanka, an advocate, allegedly attempted to portray herself as a victim by blaming her live-in partner, Mohan G, for the death of her daughter. Priyanka was absconding since an FIR was registered against her and Mohan on June 4. Mohan was arrested the same day and was remanded in 10 days police custody. "It could be a manipulative tactic to gain sympathy and avoid accountability by shifting the blame to Mohan. She claims she was unaware of her daughter's death until the following morning. According to her, while she was asleep, Mohan brought her daughter in and told her the child had already fallen asleep. Assuming her daughter was sleeping, she placed her beside her on the bed. Only the next morning did she realise that her daughter was no longer alive. She claims she initially believed the death to be natural. After receiving the postmortem report, she came to know there was foul play involved in her daughter's death. She maintains that she had no role in the murder, and applied for anticipatory bail. She also claimed she would have surrendered if she was involved in killing her daughter," an officer said, citing her statements.

Investigation also revealed that the accused bathed Vennela after her death and washed her clothes in an alleged attempt to destroy evidence. To evade arrest, she allegedly stopped using her mobile phone and bank cards and took Rs 5 lakh in cash before going into hiding.

Priyanka was remanded in five days police custody on Thursday.

TWO MEN ATTACKED BY GANG FOR HONKING

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

TWO men going in a goods vehicle were attacked by a group of four miscreants at Thipparahalli in Sarjapur for honking.

The accused had blocked the road and were fighting with the driver of a water tanker. One of the victims honked to draw the attention of the accused so that they could be given space to go. Frustrated over honking, the accused attacked the victims and also damaged their vehicle with stones. Since the victims were talking in Hindi, the accused threatened them with dire consequences for being outsiders. Both the victims are undergoing treatment at a hospital.

The victims, J Moynuddin and SK Amirul, are residents of Halasahalli in Sarjapur. Both hail from West Bengal and work at a chicken shop at Halasahalli. The incident happened at Thippasandra Gate in Sarjapur between 10.30 pm and 11 pm on Sunday. Moynuddin filed a complaint against the unidentified accused on Monday.

He stated in his complaint that they have been working at the chicken shop for the last two years. "After having dinner, we were returning in the goods vehicle. A group of four to five unidentified men had blocked the road and were fighting with the driver of a water tanker. Amirul, who was driving, started honking. The accused pulled him out of the vehicle and hit him on his head with an iron rod. When the complainant rushed to help Amirul as he was bleeding profusely, he too was attacked. When the accused started throwing stones at the victim's vehicle, they managed to reverse and escape from the scene. We have got vital clues about the accused who are said to be local residents," said an officer.

The victims then informed their employer about the incident. Amirul with life-threatening injuries is undergoing treatment at Victoria Hospital.

The Sarjapura police registered a case of causing hurt by dangerous weapons along with other sections of BNS and are further investigating.

Have a secret family code, says cyber safety expert

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FAMILY members should use code words when discussing money transfers over phone calls to avoid falling victim to voice-cloning scams, Anindita Mishra, master trainer of CyberPeace, said during the workshop on "The Psychology of Scams", organised by the CyberPeace Foundation and the Google Safety Engineering Centre under the banner "CyberPeace First Responder Workshop and Myth Buster" on Friday. The workshop participants were educated on various topics, including their rights and legal remedies.

Scammers first target victims using information gathered from social media and other sources. They then create a sense of urgency, fear, or greed through fabricated stories and pressure tactics, which often results in victims losing money. Mishra explained the social engineering techniques used by scammers, such as phishing, where fraudsters deceive individuals into revealing sensitive information by impersonating a trusted entity; smishing, in which scammers use deceptive text messages to trick victims into revealing sensitive information or downloading malicious software; and vishing, where scammers use phone calls or voice messages to deceive victims.

Effects of loneliness same as smoking 15 cigarettes a day: Study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A recent survey has shown that India, specifically its urban areas, is home to the largest population of lonely people. Noted psychiatrist Dr Ajit V Bhide was delivering the 12th Prof RL Kapur Oration organised by the National Institute of Advanced Studies, on the topic 'Mirror Mirror, On the Wall, I'm the Loneliest of Them All', here on Friday. The talk shed light on the causes of loneliness, whether it has reached epidemic proportions and solutions to alleviate this condition.

Dr Bhide shared that according to his research, the swell of loneliness and increasing pre-occupation with oneself are two conditions that seem especially prevalent now. "Although the world is more interconnected and digitally crowded, we are still physically alone. Technology use has replaced meaningful face-to-face interactions," he remarked.

The cost of loneliness is also immense, as it contributes to many health conditions like cardiovascular diseases, immune suppression, cognitive decline and accelerated cellular decay. "Being lonely is equivalent to smoking 15 cigarettes a day," he observed.

Senior loneliness is also observable, owing to loss of familiar roles and social networks, reduced mobility and limited incomes. Addressing the solutions to loneliness, Dr Bhide highlighted the importance of building strong social networks. "A few of my friends participate in activities like bhajan clubbing, blending devotional music and lively atmosphere. Pint of View is another initiative with alcoholic gatherings where those gathered undertake 45-minute deep dives into history, science and culture," he said, highlighting creative solutions. He said, "If we do not suffer from loneliness, it is important to recognise it in others and help them."

MODI PLANTED OFFICERS IN VITAL POSTS TO DESTROY CONG: KHARGE

Condemns returning officer rejecting Meenakshi's papers for Rajya Sabha polls from MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

@Bengaluru

ALL-India Congress Committee (AICC) President Mallikarjun Kharge on Friday alleged that Prime Minister Narendra Modi has "planted" officers in critical posts to destroy the Congress and democracy.

His statement comes against the backdrop of the returning officer rejecting the nomination papers of Congress leader Meenakshi Natarajan for the Rajya Sabha election from Madhya Pradesh.

Kharge was speaking to the media at Vidhana Soudha after receiving his certificate of election as a Rajya Sabha member from Karnataka.

Kharge, who is also the Leader of Opposition in the Upper House, called the move illegal.

"I am not saying that the PM himself is doing it, but he has placed RSS agents and his loyalists everywhere. Where their government exists, they have positioned people who do not follow the law, rules, or regulations. They reject anyone they want arbitrarily," Kharge said. Giving an example of Jharkhand, Kharge said, "They placed a person connected to a big corporate owner who does not have a majority. What does this mean? It means either purchasing votes, dividing them, or getting an agent of a corporate office elected... whether it is the Home Minister or the PM, their people should not interfere", he urged.

"In Jharkhand, there was a similar issue where two pages in the nomination papers were left blank. The person had not mentioned it. Details of the children mentioned were also not mentioned, but time to rectify it was given. On the other hand, a nomination by Congress is 'arbitrarily' dismissed on the same evening. Is this democracy? This clearly shows that even the Election Commission is not acting impartially. If Congress says anything, they accuse it of always criticising. Both examples are right in front of them—you take one decision in Madhya Pradesh and a completely different one in Jharkhand," Kharge said.

"First Election Commission, then High Court, then you come to the Supreme Court—that's what they (apex court) say. But this is such a special case that the more time you give, the more this case will be delayed. That's why we wanted the Supreme Court to grant relief. Still, following what they have said... we will go to the High Court," the Congress chief added.

"How his (PM Modi) 12 years were spent, which 12 lies they are, I will tell everything another time. Today is a good day for me, don't bring other things into it," Kharge hit back when asked for his reply on Modi completing 12 years in office as PM.

Kharge has been unanimously elected for the Rajya Sabha for a second consecutive term from Karnataka. He said that it was for the first time he visited the returning officer's (Assembly secretary) office to collect the certificate and maybe it would be the last time.

Meanwhile, he questioned the secretary over not placing a portrait of Dr BR Ambedkar right behind her chair as those of Mahatma Gandhi and other national leaders were present. The secretary maintained that a portrait of Dr Ambedkar has been placed exclusively facing the entrance of her office to ensure it is visible to visitors as soon as they enter the room.

Kharge, who had paid Rs 25,000 as security deposit to contest the RS polls, got it back and donated it to the Congress.

Crucial CLP meet on June 16, will focus on MLC polls

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

WITH the Karnataka Legislative Council biennial elections scheduled for June 18, the Congress Legislature Party (CLP) will hold a crucial meeting at Wonderla Resort on June 16 to finalise its voting strategy and ensure complete coordination among its legislators.

The meeting gains importance as it will be the first major CLP gathering under Chief Minister DK Shivakumar's leadership. The extended session is expected to focus on detailed vote management, allocation of first preferences and preventing any cross-voting in the election for seven Council seats elected by MLAs.

Under the single transferable vote system, each candidate requires around 28-29 first-preference votes, depending on the final number of valid votes. With 134 MLAs, the Congress has the numbers to comfortably win four seats and is expected to have surplus votes that could influence the contest for the additional seat. However, the party's arithmetic is also being closely watched due to a few uncertainties. Congress MLA Vinay Kulkarni is currently in prison, while Minister D Sudhakar's death has reduced the party's effective strength.

Independent MLAs, including Latha Mallikarjun and Darshan Puttannaiah, are expected to support Congress, while the stand of former BJP minister G Janardhana Reddy remains a key question.

The Congress leadership is expected to review the position of every MLA and assess possible voting patterns. Special attention will be given to legislators who have taken independent positions in the past, including former minister KN Rajanna, who was dropped from the state cabinet, and others whose choices could influence the final result.

The BJP, with 63 MLAs, is expected to secure two seats. The fight for the remaining seat is likely to be between the Congress' additional candidate and a JDS-backed nominee.

The role of expelled BJP leaders has added another layer of uncertainty. Former ministers ST Somashekhar and A Shivar-am Hebbar, now independent legislators, have earlier gone against the BJP line in key elections. Their voting decisions, along with that of expelled MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatal, will be closely watched. Even a small number of cross-votes or abstentions could prove decisive in a close contest.

The JDS, with 18 MLAs, faces a difficult situation as it lacks the numbers to win a seat independently. The party is expected to coordinate with the BJP, but questions remain over whether all its legislators will strictly follow the alliance strategy.

For Chief Minister Shivakumar and KPCC President BK Hariprasad, the CLP meeting will be a test of organisational control and their ability to keep the ruling party's legislators united.

A strong showing in the MLC polls would improve Congress' position in the Council, where it currently does not have a clear majority.

For the BJP-JDS alliance, preventing Congress from winning the additional seat would be seen as a political gain and a message that opposition coordination can still challenge the ruling party.

JDS LP meeting

The JDS Legislature Party meeting was held on Friday evening. The two-hour meeting discussed ways to keep the party's 18 MLAs united ahead of the June 18 MLC polls. The party also discussed ways to win one MLC seat hoping that the Congress MLAs would cross-vote.

No role in Dr G missing out on CM's chair, says HDK

Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy on Friday said that he has nothing to do with Deputy Chief Minister Dr G Parameshwara not becoming the CM in the past. Dr Parameshwara was the Deputy CM in the Kumaraswamy-led Congress-JDS alliance regime in 2018.

"Parameshwara says he missed out on the Chief Minister's post three times. What can be done? Who is responsible for him missing out? The Congress party. He should discuss this with the people in Congress... It didn't slip away when I was there... They put the blame on me, sent me home, and tried to finish off my party," Kumaraswamy told reporters. On CM DK Shivakumar participating in the NITI Aayog meeting chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Kumaraswamy, who also attended it, revealed that the former has only highlighted that the people of the state are living prosperously because of the implementation of the five guarantee schemes, especially Gruha Laskmi.

The CMs of other states had spoken about the GSDP and the development works taken up on priority, he said.

Zameer calls on Siddaramaiah

Former Minister BZ Zameer Ahmed Khan reportedly met former CM Siddaramaiah at the latter's residence on Thursday night. Earlier in the day, Siddaramaiah had rebuked Zameer's follower who insisted that the former put pressure on the party high command to get the latter a ministerial berth. Zameer met Siddaramaiah for about 30 minutes. The relationship between the two allegedly turned sour after the Davanagere South bypolls after there were reports that Zameer was allegedly involved in anti-party activities.

Cabinet berth aspirants mob Kharge now

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

WITH Chief Minister DK Shivakumar likely to expand his cabinet after the June 18 polls to seven MLC seats from the Assembly, ministerial aspirants have been hovering around AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, trying to impress him.

On Friday, Kharge was at Vidhana Soudha to collect his certificate of election as Rajya Sabha member. There was a big rush of legislators, which looked unusual, to impress upon Kharge. Some carried bouquets, while others bowed obsequiously. MLAs Ashok M Pattan, KM Shivalinge Gowda and others showed up. A few others, including MLAs RV Deshpande, Mankala Vaidya and Hampanagouda Badarli, met the Congress chief at his residence.

Deshpande said he is the senior-most legislator and this could be his last term as an MLA as he will not contest the 2028 Assembly elections. He was a minister in several previous cabinets. But he was not included in the ministry by Siddaramaiah.

As Kharge will call the shots with regard to finalising ministerial berths to SC community leaders, the aspirants have started meeting him. But Kharge is likely to decide keeping in view the 2028 Assembly and 2029 Lok Sabha polls. Those who have the potential to influence voters may get the opportunity, sources said. "His loyalist MLC Vasanth Kumar from Raichur, hailing from the SC left community, has an edge over others as he is a potential leader with prospects from the Hyderabad-Karnataka region which gave Congress five LS seats in 2024," a source said,

Manufacturing boom under PM: HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

UNION Minister for Steel and Heavy Industries HD Kumaraswamy said the Union government has placed unprecedented emphasis on manufacturing-led growth and employment-generating industries, under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Addressing the 65th Foundation Day celebrations of the Central Manufacturing Technology Institute (CMTI) here on Friday, the minister highlighted the government's focus on strengthening manufacturing and research ecosystems. These efforts have accelerated industrial growth while generating large-scale employment opportunities across sectors, he said.

At a time when there is concern over employment opportunities for engineering and diploma graduates, the government has worked to create a robust ecosystem that generates high-quality, skill-based employment for technically qualified youth, he noted.

Describing the Central Manufacturing Technology Institute as one of India's most distinguished industrial research institutions, Kumaraswamy said the institute has been contributing by developing advanced technologies and equipment for several sectors, including aerospace and defence.

Govt will get report on violators of micro-fin Act: Priyank

BENGALURU: The government will get a report on organisations and non-banking financial companies that have violated the newly passed micro-financing Act, said Home Minister Priyank Kharge here on Friday. When reporters pointed out that the organisation associated with Dharmasthala has not adhered to the new Act, Priyank said, "This law is not limited to Dharmasthala alone, but applies across the state. When an Act comes into effect, it is applicable to all, be it a temple trust or any other organisation." "I don't have full information on the organisations that have violated the law. A separate meeting will be convened to discuss the issue," he added. ENS

CM's bungalow gets a makeover, but govt staff quarters crumbling

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

EVERY time a new chief minister takes charge, his official residence and that of his cabinet ministers, located in and around Kumara Krupa Road, see repairs, renovation and a fresh coat of paint. This time too, it is no different as Chief Minister DK Shivakumar is set to move into the 160-year-old Kumara Krupa bungalow, which he is turning into his official residence.

But just a few yards away are the official quarters meant for the government staff, who live under pathetic conditions with leaky roofs, erratic water supply and bad roads.

The stretch leading to the government quarters passes in front of Cauvery bungalow, where former CM Siddaramaiah resides. It was only last year that the state government spent Rs 2.6 crore on the bungalow for renovation.

But close to it are the government staff quarters, where group B, C and D employees stay. The quarters have 50 houses and were built over 60 years ago. Portions of the quarters are in a dilapidated condition. During rain, it is common to see households placing vessels to catch rainwater. Some have also covered their roofs with plastic sheets to stop water from leaking into their homes.

A senior office-bearer of a previous secretariat association said the quarters are meant for the essential service staff, who have to be available all the time and that was the reason the quarters were constructed close to government offices. "These are very old buildings that desperately need maintenance. Some houses are vacant and the staff to whom these have been allotted are hesitant to move in as these accommodations need repairs. They have to first pay for these works and then apply for reimbursement, which takes time. That is the reason some of the houses wear a haunted look," he said.

Former minister and senior BJP MLA Suresh Kumar said a chief minister should be a role model and live a simple life. "Instead of spending so much money on renovation, they should have thought of providing better amenities for their staff. It is not acceptable that every new chief minister changes his official residence," he said.

VACATE CAUVERY FOR DKS, HELP SAVE KUMARA KRUPA, BJP TELLS SIDDARAMAIAH

BJP state spokesperson Prakash Shesharaghavachar has urged former CM Siddaramaiah to vacate Cauvery bungalow and move to his earlier government residence on Gandhi Bhavan Road to prevent the proposed conversion of Kumara Krupa bungalow, the 160-year-old heritage structure, into the official residence of CM DK Shivakumar. In a letter to Siddaramaiah, Prakash said, "Media reports suggest that you have decided to reside in the same house. Consistent with the media reports, Shivakumar is considering making Kumarakrupa bungalow as his official residence." Prakash said Kumarakrupa bungalow is one of the oldest heritage structures of Bengaluru. Its premises include staff quarters and a building with several rooms for government employees visiting Bengaluru from other districts. Recently, a large guest house was constructed behind Kumara Krupa bungalow and is being managed by KSTDC. Guests from other states are accommodated in this heritage building. If Shivakumar makes Kumarakrupa his official residence, it will cause inconvenience to many. Prakash said that a hotel on the same premises managed by KSTDC may also face operational difficulties.

Bidadi Township: Govt set to acquire 500 acres

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government has issued the final notification for land acquisition for the Greater Bengaluru Integrated Township project in Bidadi on Thursday. According to reports, 518 acres out of 7,481 acres will be acquired from three villages under Phase 1.

In all, 367 acres at Kempayyanapalya and 70 acres at Mandalahalli villages in Bidadi hobli and 61 acres at Vaderahalli in Harohalli hobli have been marked for acquisition.

HG Prakash, former member of Byramangala Taluk Panchayat, claimed that the land marked for acquisition at Kempayyanapalya was unfit for agricultural purposes whereas at Mandalahalli, nearly 20% of the owners are outsiders and at Vaderahalli, the owners who agreed to give their land are mostly Congress supporters. "The farmers by and large are against the land acquisition. On June 14, they will stage a protest to coincide with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's agitation against the Centre's land acquisition in the Andamans," said Prakash.

A pet endeavour of Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, the proposed Bidadi township project has an estimated budget of Rs 20,000 crore with the aim to decongest Bengaluru.

Govt using fertile land for real estate, says HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

LAUNCHING his tirade against Chief Minister DK Shivakumar for notifying land in Bidadi to allegedly run a real estate business on the pretext of the Integrated Township Project, Union Minister and JDS president HD Kumaraswamy on Friday challenged the CM to accompany him to the affected villages and know what the farmers genuinely want.

Condemning the Congress government's move to issue a final notification for land acquisition for the project, despite strong opposition from farmers, he warned of a legal battle. Kumaraswamy told reporters he would fight on behalf of the "annadata" who is losing land. "Let the Chief Minister come to the villages to find out whether the people who are losing land are actually farmers or not. I will also go there," Kumaraswamy said.

When the farmers have been protesting for 470 days, it is not right to issue a final notification, he said, alleging that the government is out to grab fertile agricultural land for real estate business. He took strong exception to filing of FIRs against the farmers.

He hit out at Home Minister Priyank Kharge for claiming that no FIR had been filed, and alleged that police and goons had been used to harass farmers. "The tragedy is that people's representatives who were elected by these people have joined this racket. The government requires the consent of farmers for any notification," he said. About 80 to 90 per cent of farmers are opposing the project, he added.

He reiterated that in 2006 when he was CM and had decided to build five townships, including Bidadi, he had dropped the project due to strong opposition from farmers.

Kumaraswamy condemned CM Shivakumar for renovating the heritage Kumara Krupa Guest House, and joked that if the Congress continues for the next five years, even the Vidhana Soudha could be in danger.

THE energy department has earned Rs 3,685.29 crore through sale of power to the grid in the past four years.

Power Company of Karnataka Limited (PCKL) said, it sold 6,531.33 million units (MU) at an average cost of Rs 5.64 per unit from 2023-24 till June 8, 2026. Also, during the same period, it purchased 14,082.88 MU at a cost of Rs 9,111.65 crore, with Rs 6.47 as average per unit.

A senior official from PCKL said maximum power was sold during monsoon, primarily during solar hours, when market rates were less. Power purchase was done during peak hours only during summer when demand and rates were high. Hence, the selling price was less compared to the purchasing price. Now, we are

AIPEF opposes privatisation of power distribution

BENGALURU: Members of the All-India Power Engineers' Federation (AIPEF) on Friday sought immediate withdrawal of the proposed amendment to the electricity Bill. They also opposed an application submitted by Tata Power to the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission (KERC) seeking permission for power distribution in 19 districts under the state's five Escoms. AIPEF chairman Shailendra Dubey said privatisation of the power sector will lead to the fragmentation of the entire industry. By allowing multiple distribution licensees in the same area, the Bill provides private companies a free hand to engage only profitable consumers. The members of the meeting urged the government to grant a parallel electricity distribution licence to Tata Power and sought restoration of the Old Pension Scheme (OPS). They said since private companies attract only high-revenue consumers, it would become impossible for public utilities to supply electricity at affordable rates to domestic users, farmers and vulnerable sections. Therefore, the application of Tata Power should be rejected. ENS working towards increasing renewable power generation to sell it to the grid to make profits. Maximum power sold during 2024-25 was 3,785.25 MU, at a cost of Rs 5.19 per unit and the total amount realised was Rs 1,965.64 crore. Maximum power purchased during 2025-26 was 5,971.71 MU, at a cost of Rs 5.34 per unit, amounting to Rs 3,190.49 crore.

During 2023-24, 674.01 MU of power was purchased at a cost of Rs 4.07 per unit and the total amount realised was Rs 274.61 crore. During the same period, 3,311.28 MU of power was purchased at a cost of Rs 7.63 per unit, realising Rs 2,526.64 crore.

The official said the government has been working towards increasing solar and wind power generation. This will not only help in reducing the load on conventional sources as it aligns with the Union and state governments' energy policies, but also help Karnataka in selling power. "We can sell more power to the grid. We are also looking at increasing our hydel power generation. Presently, storing power is a concern. So, selling it to the grid is a viable option," the official said.

65-year-old man rescued after overnight search

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

A coordinated overnight search operation by the Forest Department and villagers of Hemmadaga successfully rescued a 65-year-old man who had gone missing in the dense forests of the Bhimgad Wildlife Sanctuary in Khanapur taluk.

The missing villager, Hemmanna Madar, a resident of Hemmadaga village, had ventured into the forest on June 10 to graze his cattle. While the cattle returned home by evening, Madar failed to return, triggering concern among family members and villagers. The situation was particularly alarming as the Bhimgad Wildlife Sanctuary is known to be home to several wild animals, including tigers, leopards, bears, and Indian gaurs.

Forest officials immediately launched a large-scale search operation and officials discovered that Madar had lost his way while returning to the village and took shelter beneath a large rock near Malki Farm near Dongargaon road.

THE Karnataka government has decided to retain the existing fee structure for medical, dental, undergraduate and postgraduate courses for the 2026-27 academic year, bringing relief to thousands of students and parents who were apprehensive about a possible increase in fees. The decision was taken at a meeting chaired by Medical Education Minister Dr Sharan Prakash Patil with representatives of private medical and dental college managements at Vikas Soudha on Friday.

The minister said the government had not accepted proposals submitted by private college managements seeking a revision of fees. He clarified that the fee structure fixed for the 2025-26 academic year would continue unchanged for the current academic year.

"The government has decided that this is not the right time to burden students and parents with higher fees. Students are already facing uncertainty and stress related to admissions, and therefore the existing fee structure will continue," he said.

Patil also urged students and parents not to pay heed to rumours regarding a fee hike, reiterating that the government had not given approval for any increase proposed by private medical and dental colleges.

Under the existing fee structure, the annual tuition fee for MBBS courses in government medical colleges will remain Rs 5,000. For government quota seats in colleges under the Karnataka Professional Colleges Foundation (KPCEF), Karnataka Religious and Linguistic Minority Professional Colleges Association (KRLMPCA) and Association of Minority Professional Colleges in Karnataka (AMPCCK), the fee will continue at Rs 1.41 lakh. The same fee will apply to government quota seats in private universities.

For private quota MBBS seats, the annual fee will remain Rs 11.88 lakh across colleges affiliated with KPCEF, KRLMPCA and AMPCCK. Similarly, the fee for Bachelor of Dental Surgery (BDS) courses in government colleges will continue at Rs 40,000. Government quota seats in private dental colleges under KPCEF, KRLMPCA and AMPCCK will retain the fee of Rs 83,358, while private quota seats will continue to cost Rs 7.32 lakh per year.

Kalaburagi MP Radhakrishna, MLC Nagaraj Yadav, Additional Chief Secretary of the Medical Education Department Mohammed Mohsin, representatives of private medical and dental colleges, and officials of the department were present at the meeting.

BJP leaders are demanding that the State government make public the Special Investigation Team (SIT) report on the Dharmasthala case. They claim the conspiracy was hatched to tarnish the sanctity of the Dharmasthala Manjunatha temple and "funding for the conspiracy" has to be revealed.

BJP State General Secretary V Sunil Kumar told reporters that despite several months having passed since the SIT was formed to probe the mystery, its report has not been disclosed. He alleged that the Manjunatha temple, a major Hindu religious centre, was unnecessarily defamed. Referring to statements reportedly made by the accused, Mahesh Thimmarodi, before a court, he said they point to a larger conspiracy. He noted that both in the Assembly and on various occasions, the BJP had raised concerns that the case had links to Kerala and other states.

Kumar said the government has to reveal the people behind the conspiracy and questioned the accused's statements before court.

"What kind of probe has the SIT done? This needs to be discussed on a public platform. When DK Shivakumar was DCM, he had replied in the House that he is in favour of Dharmasthala. What action will he take now as Chief Minister?" he questioned.

BJP State President BY Vijayendra claimed that a major conspiracy had been hatched to tarnish the sanctity of the Manjunatheshwara Temple at Dharmasthala. Vijayendra, who was at the BJP office in Bengaluru, told reporters that when the allegations came up, the then CM Siddaramaiah had ordered an SIT probe. This had raised suspicion. "Siddaramaiah had earlier stated there was no need for a probe. But the next day, under pressure from vested interests, he ordered an SIT probe," he said.

Vijayendra said now there is an allegation that crores had been used to fund the conspiracy, and there is a need to probe whether there is foreign funding. "We are hurt because the Congress government supported such forces. Who funded it, from where did the funds come and why was the SIT probe set up? This is the appeal of all Hindus," he said.

'Court must direct SIT to speed up investigation'

ACCUSING SIT of failing to file the final report even months after his complaint against the conspirators, the petitioner prayed the court to direct SIT to complete the investigation expeditiously and submit the final report to the jurisdictional court in Belthangady. Justice Suraj Govindaraj on Thursday 11 issued notices to the state government, SIT and others, and adjourned the hearing to June 29.

Narrating in detail the developments from 2014 to 2024, including bringing him back from Tamil Nadu to Dharmasthala, with elaborate details of alleged conspiracy, the petitioner accused Vittal Gowda, Thimmarodi, Mattannavar, Jayanth, YouTubers and several others behind the conspiracy hatched to target Dharmasthala and Heggade.

Stating that he was forced to give statements to YouTubers as instructed by the conspirators, the petitioner alleged that he was also prepared as to how to give a statement before the court. The sanitation worker alleged that he was subjected to severe intimidation, physical and mental harassment. He alleged that Mattannavar summoned his son-in-law, son of his sister-in-law and kept them at Thimmarodi's residence for two days. Mattannavar threatened him that the two would be killed.

At times, both Mattannavar and Thimmarodi abused and assaulted him, he alleged. Thimmarodi threatened to kill him for showing places different from what he suggested originally to search for skeletons, the petitioner alleged.

The petitioner stated that with repeated and forceful instructions piled on him, he could not bring himself to give false evidence against Dharmasthala, where he was staying at. The petitioner also stated that he tried to commit suicide as he believed that some harm could be done to Heggade because of his false statement.

But Mattannavar and his associates stopped him from dying by suicide, assaulted him and told him that if he died there would be no one left to give the false evidence they required. He informed SIT about the conspiracy, and later he was produced before the magistrate to record his statement, where he disclosed the conspiracy hatched and narrated how it was exploited and misused.

He was then sent to judicial custody, and an FIR was registered. After being released on December 18, 2025, he lodged a complaint at the Dharmasthala police station against the conspirators and their associates. But no action was initiated, the petitioner alleged.

CLEAR KARNATAKA'S PENDING PROJECTS, CM TO UNION MIN

Says Rs5k cr aid announced for state in 2023-24
Union Budget has not been released so far

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister DK Shivakumar on Friday appealed to Union Jal Shakti Minister CR Patil to grant clearances for the state's pending projects.

Shivakumar and Water Resources Minister Ramalinga Reddy met Patil in New Delhi and submitted a memorandum seeking approval for the state's pending projects, including Mekedatu balancing reservoir.

In the memorandum, the CM said, "Karnataka has the second largest dryland in the country after Rajasthan. The state government is committed to enhancing agricultural production, boosting farmers' income and ensuring a reliable supply of water for irrigation." On the Mekedatu project, he said the apex court dismissed the miscellaneous applications of Tamil Nadu on November 13, 2025. It is for the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) and the Central Water Commission (CWC) to take a decision on allowing the Mekedatu project. The apex court recently dismissed the review petition of Tamil Nadu. "As CWMA has asked CWC to appraise the project, we request the Union government to ensure expeditious clearance to it," Shivakumar said. The Union government is yet to notify the Krishna Water Dispute Tribunal-II (KWDT-II) award in the gazette though it was delivered over a decade ago. Karnataka has invested huge sums of money in the Upper Krishna Project Stage-III. The state needs the Centre's support to proceed with the project and use its share of water, he said.

Shivakumar said the Union government announced Rs 5,300 crore assistance for the state in its budget for 2023-24. However, this assistance has not been released to the state so far. The DoWR, RD & GR (Department of Water Resources, River Development & Ganga Rejuvenation), Ministry of Jal Shakti, at its 160th meeting of the advisory committee on March 3 appraised the revised cost estimate proposal of the Upper Bhadra Project for Rs 21,167.93 crore. He said Kalasa and Banduri Nala projects were cleared by the CWC/Ministry of Jal Shakti in December 2022, but Forest/Wildlife clearance for them is yet to be given by the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEF & CC) though there is no legal impediment.

DKS seeks Centre's help to strengthen police, security infra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on Thursday urged Union Home Minister Amit Shah to provide Central support for enhancing the state's police capabilities and security infrastructure.

During a meeting in New Delhi, Shivakumar submitted a memorandum highlighting several key proposals aimed at modernising Karnataka Police and improving overall law and order infrastructure.

The CM requested the prestigious 'President's Colour' award for the Karnataka State Police. The proposal, submitted to the Centre on May 8, 2024, is still under consideration. Shivakumar emphasised that the state police deserves this highest honour for its service.

Shivakumar also sought early approval for the creation of two additional India Reserve Battalions (IRBs) in Vijayanagara and Bengaluru South (formerly Ramana-gara) districts at an estimated cost of Rs 243.87 crore. He submitted a fresh proposal in February 2025 for the same. Other major demands include, Rs 280 crore under the ASUMP scheme for establishing Command and Control Centres in four major cities, upgradation of CCTV cameras in police stations at a cost of Rs 278.26 crore, Rs 258.53 crore for modernising police training institutions as per BPR&D guidelines, Rs 20 crore for prison modernisation, permission to utilise CSR funds for police-related activities by including them under Schedule VII of the Companies Act, 2013, setting up of a dedicated Karnataka Cyber Crime Control and Coordination Unit at an estimated investment of Rs 360 crore to tackle rising cyber threats.

The CM also requested an extension for implementing Rule 52-A of the Central Motor Vehicles Rules, 1989, in the state.

BJP's focus is on next gen's future, not next polls: Rajnath

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

ASSERTING that honesty and integrity are the foremost qualities required for any leader to earn the trust and support of the people, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Friday described Prime Minister Narendra Modi's life as an epitome of simplicity, sincerity and dedication to public service.

Addressing a meeting of intellectuals organised here by the state unit of BJP, he said: "Modi's entire public life has been marked by honesty, integrity and simplicity. He served as the chief minister of Gujarat for 13 years and has been serving the nation as prime minister for the past 12 years."

Highlighting the BJP government's approach to governance, Rajnath said the party's intentions are clear and there is no difference between its words and actions. The defence minister said that all "illegal intruders" are being driven out from states governed by the BJP and added that the process has also begun in West Bengal. "BJP is not concerned about the next elections but is focused on securing the future of the next generation," he said.

Speaking about India's response to recent global crises, he said: "Over the past 12 years, India has emerged as the world's most trusted partner during times of crisis. Whenever and wherever disasters strike, India is among the first countries to extend assistance."

Referring to India's growing global stature, Rajnath said that the country is now recognised worldwide as a "Viswa Bandhu" (friend of the world).

He, however, cautioned that India's commitment to peace, tolerance and goodwill should not be mistaken for weakness. He said India's adversaries must remember that while the Viswa Bandhu has vaccines, it also possesses BrahMos missiles. Targeting the Congress, he alleged that its politics is based on the belief that the country is the property of a single family. He alleged that Congress leader Rahul Gandhi considers himself the natural successor to the post of prime minister. Drawing a contrast between the BJP and Congress, he said Congress views itself as a ruling class, whereas the BJP considers itself a servant of the people. He added that the BJP has always followed the principle that service to the people is service to the divine.

On electoral issues, Rajnath said victories and defeats are a part of democracy. However, he alleged that whenever Congress loses elections, it begins questioning Electronic Voting Machines, the Special Intensive Revision process and the Election Commission. Instead of misleading the public, he said, Congress should introspect why it lost the trust of the people. It is because of false claims and flawed policies, he said.

7 PEOPLE HELD CAPTIVE BY JOB RACKET GANG IN KERALA RESCUED

AGENCIES @Kochi

POLICE on Friday said it rescued from captivity seven persons hailing from outside Kerala who were brought here and made to pay Rs 30 lakh each by promising to get them jobs in Canada.

It also arrested one of the persons who was allegedly part of the human trafficking group that had kept the seven victims in captivity.

Those rescued were from the states of Haryana, Punjab, Madhya Pradesh and Karnataka and in a weak condition when they were found, police said. They were rescued from a rented accommodation near Cheranalloor here following an investigation based on a tip-off, it said. After promising to provide them jobs in Canada, they were brought to the rented house where they were detained and threatened.

To make their families believe that all the victims had reached Canada, a flex with pictures of places in the foreign nation was put up as a background and their videos were taken by making them stand in front of it, police said.

The victims, all of whom had only studied upto class 8, were intimidated and made to say in the video that they had reached Canada, it said. The videos were sent to the respective families to get money from them, it added.

One of the victims had escaped from the rented house recently, following which the accused, who were 11 in number, escaped with the money. Following the police investigation, Abdul Rahim, a native of Siliguri, West Bengal, was arrested by the police from the Ernakulam South Railway Station and the victims' mobile phones, passports and around Rs one lakh were allegedly recovered from his possession.

Rahim was subsequently produced in court and remanded, police said, adding that it received information that the accused have committed similar frauds in other states as well. The Cheranalloor police are investigating the matter with police officers from other states, it added.

Vijay offers prayers at Mookambika, donates 1.6kg silver sword

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

TAMIL Nadu Chief Minister C Joseph Vijay on Friday visited the renowned Kollur Sri Mookambika Temple in Udupi district and offered special prayers to Goddess Mookambika amid tight security and massive fan frenzy. Vijay became only the third Tamil Nadu Chief Minister, after MG Ramachandran and J Jayalalithaa, to visit the temple while in office.

Thousands of supporters gathered outside the temple, raising slogans in support of the actor-turned-politician. Despite heavy rain, enthusiastic fans climbed trees and nearby buildings to catch a glimpse of their favourite star.

Vijay arrived at the temple at around 3.30 pm and performed a special pooja. He offered a 1.6-kg silver sword to Goddess Mookambika, and temple priests tied a consecrated thread around his wrist as a symbol of protection. He spent nearly 30 minutes at the shrine before being felicitated by the temple authorities.

The Udupi district police had beefed up security in and around the temple to manage the large crowds. Police resorted to a mild lathi charge to disperse sections of the gathering. Authorities said there was no reduction in the overall darshan time available to devotees. However, instead of the routine closure from 1.30 pm to 3.30 pm, the temple remained closed from 2 pm to 4 pm owing to the Chief Minister's visit.

As he left the temple, Vijay broke from the usual security protocol by driving himself to a nearby guest house. After a brief 15-minute halt, he again took the wheel and drove to Mangaluru International Airport. Some fans managed to take selfies with him before he boarded his flight back.

Earlier in the day, activists of the Karnataka Rakshana Vedike were taken into preventive custody at Udyavara on National Highway 66 in Udupi district while attempting to stage a black-flag protest against the Tamil Nadu Chief Minister. The protest was reportedly over Tamil Nadu's opposition to Karnataka's proposed Meke-datu Irrigation Project on the Cauvery River. The activists were detained before Vijay's arrival.

He was received by Minister for Health and Family Welfare UT Khader and officials of the Dakshina Kannada district administration at Mangaluru International Airport. Dakshina Kannada Additional Deputy Commissioner Raju K presented him with a copy of a book on Swami Vivekananda.

This was Vijay's first visit to Karnataka after assuming office as the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu. A large number of fans had gathered outside the airport to greet him. He later travelled about 120 km to Kollur under tight security arrangements coordinated by the Karnataka and Tamil Nadu police.

The institute has become the first B-school in India to introduce the innovative BFSI-focused "PGDM + AEPGP (Apprenticeship Embedded Post-Graduate Programme)", aimed at creating career opportunities for fresh graduates aspiring to excel in the rapidly evolving BFSI and FinTech sectors. The programme was formally launched by Dr Nabaroon Chakraborty, National Head - Institution Engagement, BFSI Sector Skill Council (BFSI-SSC), Mumbai, and Dr Manish Jain, Founder and Chairman of IBA.

AS SPACEX IPO HOOVERS UP RECORD FUNDS, IT EXPOSES INDIAN MARKET’S CHINKS

SPACEX’S $75-billion stock listing in the US on Friday shattered several records. With a valuation of $1.77 trillion, the reusable rocket company surpassed Saudi oil company Aramco’s 2019 public offering as the world’s biggest and made its largest shareholder Elon Musk the world’s first trillionaire. Two other American tech giants—Claude maker Anthropic and ChatGPT maker OpenAI—filed for IPOs this month and are likely to tap the market later this year with valuations of over $1 trillion each.

Such significant fundraising comes when India and several other emerging markets are witnessing persistent foreign capital outflows. India’s IPO market is also buzzing, but as a Reuters study showed, rather than raising funds to expand markets, the rush is about repatriating dollars. For example, Hyundai Motor and LG Electronics raised about $5 billion in India through secondary offerings and, for each dollar they raised, more than $59 went out of the country.

SpaceX’s investor rush may be a defining moment for global capital markets, but that is in stark contrast with India. While advanced and some Asian markets are riding the AI and semiconductor bull run, India is in a bear territory due to the notable absence of AI and chip firms. This, along with valuation concerns and weak earnings outlook, dragged Indian markets down to the seventh place in just one fortnight. If South Korea surpassed the NSE’s $4.85-trillion market cap earlier this month, Taiwan overtook it last month. Even last year, India’s market cap was roughly 3.5 times South Korea’s and more than twice that of Taiwan. Thanks to subdued earnings and persistent outflows, the Nifty50 and Sensex have lost 10.1 percent and 12.5 percent, respectively, this year and continue to slide.

The other view is that India cannot be compared with Taiwan and South Korea. Just one company—TSMC—dominates Taiwan’s index with a weightage of over 35 percent, while Samsung Electronics and SK Hynix together constitute over 35 percent of South Korea’s benchmark index. In contrast, Indian blue-chips like Reliance Industries and HDFC Bank comprise less than 10 percent each. That said, it’s undeniable is that our investment rates are low and the labour-intensive manufacturing sector is stagnant. To realise India’s potential, its economy must evolve to ensure that key growth levers like consumption and investment can withstand geopolitical uncertainties.

LEGISLATURE AWAITS CLARITY ON LEGAL, POLITICAL POSERS

ALCUTTA High Court’s Justice Krishna Rao on Thursday posed a pertinent question on whether West Bengal Assembly Speaker Rathindra Bose was right in recognising Ritabrata Banerjee as Leader of Opposition in the House without the consent of the Trinamool Congress after his expulsion from the party. He was hearing Trinamool’s challenge to the recognition of Ritabrata as LoP instead of the official Mamata Banerjee group’s nominee, Sobhandeb Chattopadhyay. Ritabrata had the numbers—58 of the Trinamool’s 80 legislators—but had been expelled by ‘Didi’ a day before the rebel group propped him as its legislative leader. Justice Rao also sought to know if the Speaker had issued any formal order recognising the LoP, and adjourned the matter to June 16, two days before the Assembly is due to convene.

The judge’s poser stemmed from a Supreme Court case law set in the Shiv Sena split verdict. Writing for a five-judge Constitution bench in 2023, the then Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud ruled that it is the political party—and not the legislature party—that is authorised to appoint the leader and the whip in the House. Assuming the 2023 verdict holds ground, it could arrest similar defections and put a question mark on the merger of seven out of AAP’s 10 Rajya Sabha members with the BJP. Besides, there is little clarity on the split in the Trinamool parliamentary party.

Meanwhile, Trinamool national general secretary and Mamata’s nephew Abhishek Banerjee is in a pickle, as at least seven rebel MLAs complained to the Assembly Secretariat alleging their signatures had been forged on the party’s resolution appointing Sobhandeb as LoP. Abhishek was on Thursday grilled by the state Criminal Investigation Department in the signature forgery case.

Widespread discontent against Abhishek’s authoritarian leadership is the focal point of Trinamool’s dramatic disintegration, which is also blamed on the ruling BJP’s intimidation, coercion and inducement. However, Mamata continues to command respect, including from the rebels. It’s up to her to quickly take corrective action to stem the legislative haemorrhage. Her exploratory exercise at the INDIA bloc meeting in Delhi—where Congress leader Sonia Gandhi offered a warm hug—was the starting point of repairing the bridges she had burnt during her long tenure as chief minister.

QUICK TAKE

DETECTING DISINFORMATION

STANDING next to the French Prime Minister on Thursday, a senior leader of the country’s disinformation detection agency Viginum revealed that an Israeli company had run digital influence operations in contests as farflung as the French municipal elections, Scottish parliamentary polls and New York’s mayoral tussle this year. BlackCore, which has described itself as “an elite influence, cyber and technology company built for the modern era of information warfare”, ran coordinated campaigns to influence voters against those who might oppose Israel’s carnage in Gaza and elsewhere, Viginum’s report claimed. They would hardly be the first such influence peddler. However, the question it raises for the world’s largest democracy, which also hosts the largest netizenry, is about the non-partisan steps being taken to guard future elections from such operations.

IN a single Thursday, the war over Iran shifted from the brink of a catastrophe to the cusp of a deal. On June 11, President Donald Trump threatened to strike Iran “very hard” and seize Kharg island, through which nine-tenths of Iranian oil flows; by night-fall, he had called off the strikes, announced an agreement “approved” by all parties—Iran among them—and predicted a signing in Europe within days. It was at least the eighth time since February that he cancelled strikes at the last moment—a rhythm of ultimatum and reprieve that should temper any euphoria.

Yet the breakthrough is more of a declaration than a fact. Tehran offered no confirmation; its semi-official Fars news agency said Iran had agreed to no memorandum of understanding, though it judged an eventual approval likely. Israel went further, refusing to recognise any agreement, with Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu reportedly blindsided by the announcement. The framework, brokered in late-night exchanges between Qatari and Iranian negotiators, focuses narrowly on reopening the Strait of Hormuz and lifting the US naval blockade, while deferring decisions on Iran’s nuclear programme and over $16 billion in frozen Iranian funds. Trump stressed that the blockade remains in effect until the ink is dry.

That a deal remains elusive after 100 days of conflict reflects irreconcilable ends, only partly papered over. Washington’s mix of strikes, blockade and coercion seeks hard limits on Iran’s nuclear and missile programmes and its proxies, plus freedom of navigation. Tehran, reconstituted around Mojtaba Khamenei and an ascendant Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps after Ali Khamenei’s death, treats its energy lifeline, sanctions relief and security guarantees as non-negotiable. The result is a double blockade around Hormuz—American warships throttling Iranian ports, while Iran restricts the waterway carrying a fifth of the world’s seaborne oil. Iran declared the strait closed after Thursday’s attacks; Washington insists shipping still flows.

Into that gap has stepped a crowded field of mediators. Qatar has emerged as the indispensable broker of the present draft, its envoys hammering out the text with Iranian negotiators while its emir pressed the case with Trump by telephone. The UAE and Pakistan, too, urged restraint. Earlier direct talks hosted by Pakistan had collapsed over what Tehran called excessive demands, and Oman’s quiet neutrality continues in the background. escalation has again unnerved the Gulf, exposing the paradox its leaders long dreaded—that dependence on the US as guarantor offers no insulation from the costs of its military choices.

Israel remains the great complicating variable. The original Iran ceasefire pointedly excluded Lebanon, and Israel’s continuing bombardment there—more than 2,000 killed and over a million displaced—keeps reigniting the wider war. Hezbollah’s leader Naim Qassem has rejected a US-brokered truce as tantamount to surrender, while Iran insists Lebanon falls within any understanding and warns it will resume operations if the strikes persist. That Netanyahu was neither consulted before Thursday’s announcement nor willing to acknowledge a deal feeds a suspicion that Israel has little interest in US-Iran diplomacy succeeding—and ample means to derail it.

The prognosis, then, is hopeful but unproven. The choreography that produced Thursday’s reprieve could unravel within a news cycle, as it has before. Markets have exhaled—oil eased, equities rallied—but the toll is heavy. The World Bank this week cut its global growth forecast to 2.5 percent, the weakest since the pandemic, warned of a fall to 1.3 percent should the war reignite; it projected global headline inflation climbing to 4 percent through 2026 against 3.3 percent last year. A settlement that secures navigation while deferring the nuclear question and frozen funds is less a peace than a pause dressed as one.

For India, the war has turned lethal and personal. In four days, American forces attacked three tankers carrying Indian crews—the Marivex, the Settebello

INDIA INC’S SHIELD IN CLIMATE FIGHT

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE

Director General, Confederation of Indian Industry

Indian industry has to be a critical driver in both mitigation and adaptation. Across sectors, businesses have invested in transformative solutions, from scaling electric mobility and advancing battery manufacturing to expanding renewable energy capacity and integrating climate-resilient operations. Efforts such as targeting 30 percent electric vehicle penetration by 2030, contributing to 500 GW of non-fossil fuel capacity, deploying grid-scale storage and retrofitting industrial infrastructure to address heat stress illustrate a proactive shift toward climate-aligned growth.

Businesses need to map climate resilience on their growth charts. This is especially urgent for India, which lost an estimated $194 bn of income in 2024 through work-hours missed in climate extremes. SAARTH, an industry-led platform to co-develop scalable solutions, can help

Despite this progress, critical gaps persist. According to recent estimates published in Lancet, India lost 247 billion potential labour hours due to heat exposure in 2024, resulting in an estimated $194 billion in income losses. Rising heat stress, water scarcity and extreme weather events are emerging as significant risks to productivity, supply chains, investment decisions and long-term competitiveness across sectors.

Stakeholders, particularly industry and smaller businesses, face significant constraints in responding to climate risks such as lack of localised risk intelligence; absence of practical adaptation tools and the gap in translating information into action. Access to finance remains limited and partnerships are needed to scale solutions and strengthen preparedness. In the absence of these enabling conditions, organisations struggle to plan effectively, invest with confidence or build long-term resilience. The need of the hour is coordinated action that closes these gaps and equips stakeholders to respond at the pace and scale the challenge demands.

Through the centres of excellence on sustainability, food, water and green buildings, the Confederation of Indian Industry has designed multi-stakeholder collaborations to support resilience-building across India. These region-specific approaches target vulnerable industrial areas, mainstream adaptation strategies and safeguard stakeholders from climate-driven disruptions.

To accelerate this progress, CII recently launched SAARTH: Sustainable action alliance for resilient tomorrow, an industry-led multi-stakeholder platform designed to co-develop scalable, investment-ready solutions that strengthen climate preparedness across regions and supports India’s transition to a climate-resilient economy. Through SAARTH, stakeholders will engage in policy dialogues and help shape regulatory mechanisms that enable effective adaptation.

The platform will provide the required tools and evidence to support industry decision-making, including access to localised hazard and vulnerability data to assess physical risks and vulnerabilities. In addition, SAARTH will help build the resilience of smaller businesses and value chains through capacity building, while improving access to finance, technology and partnerships.

For stakeholders across the country, the window for action is still open. The choices we make today will not only define the stability of our climate but also secure growth, resilience and sustainability for generations to come.

Nuke attack subs, 3 more Scorpenes on agenda during PM's France visit

Spotlight may be on India's ₹40,000 cr SSN programme as France keen to leverage expertise

JAVARIA RANA @ New Delhi

INDIA and France are likely to advance discussions on cooperation for the Indian Navy's indigenous nuclear-powered attack submarine (SSN) programme during Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Paris beginning Saturday, sources in the know told this newspaper.

Even as the two sides take stock of the pending proposal for three additional Scorpene submarines, spotlight is likely to be on India's ₹40,000-crore SSN programme, with France keen to leverage its Barracuda-class expertise to secure a role in the Navy's most ambitious underwater warfare project.

"Any cooperation will have to involve substantial transfer of know-how in areas such as submarine design, acoustic management, metallurgy and propulsion technologies, even as the indigenous SSN programme remains firmly under Indian control," the source said.

Sources said that earlier discussions with the French have included technologies associated with pump-jet propulsion and acoustic quieting, though no formal cooperation arrangement has been announced yet.

India currently does not operate any SSNs. The next Akula-class submarine being leased from Russia, Chakra-III, is now slated for delivery around 2028, nearly three years behind schedule.

The CCS had in October 2024 cleared the first phase of the Navy's SSN programme, paving the way for the construction of two indigenous nuclear-powered attack submarines at the Ship Building Centre in Visakhapatnam. These will be the first two submarines under the Navy's long-term plan to induct six SSNs.

The boats are expected to displace around 10,000 tonnes and be powered by indigenous 190 MW nuclear reactors. The first submarine is unlikely to enter service before 2036-37.

Significantly, France remains the only Western country to have offered assistance for India's closely guarded SSN programme. Russia has so far enjoyed a monopoly in the domain through the lease of Akula-class submarines.

The French push also comes after Australia scrapped a multi-billion-dollar submarine programme with the French in favour of the AUKUS arrangement with the US and the UK. This gave a major blow to France's export ambitions.

Sources said that the proposal for three additional Scorpenes is also expected to figure in the discussions. If cleared, the submarines are expected to feature higher indigenous content and provisions for the DRDO-developed fuel-cell-based Air Independent Propulsion (AIP) system. The DAC had cleared the proposal in July 2023 and subsequent commercial negotiations brought the cost down to around ₹36,000 crore. However, the contract is yet to be inked and remains pending final CCS approval.

The additional Scorpene proposal has also lost momentum with the parallel ₹70,000-crore Project-75I programme for six advanced submarines with German collaboration moving closer to fruition after securing Finance Ministry clearance and now awaiting the final CCS nod. Even so, sources clarified that the proposal for three additional French-origin Scorpenes remains under consideration and is expected to figure in the Modi-Macron talks.

B'desh flags push-in concern, India seeks quick nationality verification

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

INDIA and Bangladesh have agreed to strengthen coordinated border management, intensify joint patrols and enhance real-time information sharing following the 57th Director General-level Border Coordination Conference between the Border Security Force (BSF) and Border Guard Bangladesh (BGB) held in New Delhi from June 8 to 11.

Both sides reiterated a policy of 'zero tolerance' towards transborder crimes, insurgent activities and actions undermining border security, as the issue of alleged push-ins figured prominently during the discussions with the BGB, raising concerns over what it termed recent incidents involving the pushing of individuals, including Rohingya and Indian nationals, into Bangladesh in violation of existing bilateral mechanisms.

After the four-day deliberations between the delegation led by BSF Director General Praveen Kumar and that of BGB led by its Director General Major General Mohammad Ashrafuzzaman Siddiqui, the two sides on Friday issued separate press statements.

In the statements, they claimed that the talks were cordial, positive and forward-looking and reaffirmed their commitment to maintaining peace, stability and security along the 4,096-km India-Bangladesh border. According to the press statements, the two border-guarding forces agreed to strengthen coordinated patrols, improve vigilance, expand real-time intelligence sharing and intensify action against transborder criminal networks involved in narcotics trafficking, arms smuggling, counterfeit currency, gold smuggling, human trafficking and illegal border crossings.

However, the BGB in its statement highlighted a few issues of concern raised by Bangladesh during the talks, including border killings, alleged push-ins, border infrastructure construction and trans-border river management.

On border killings, the BGB expressed deep concern over the deaths of what it described as unarmed Bangladeshi nationals resulting from the use of lethal and non-lethal weapons along the border. It urged its Indian counterpart to bring such incidents down to zero.

Both sides agreed that incidents of border violence should be addressed through coordinated efforts, enhanced border security mechanisms, joint patrolling and public awareness campaigns, the BGB said.

The BSF, on its part, said, "During the deliberations, both sides held detailed discussions on... illegal border crossings and human trafficking. The two delegations also discussed issues relating to border deaths and illegal/inadvertent/forcible crossing, construction of border infrastructure, implementation of the Coordinated Border Management Plan..."

Cong plans to step up protests as SC turns down Natarajan's plea

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY & PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AFTER the Supreme Court dismissed Congress leader Meenakshi Natarajan's plea challenging the rejection of her nomination papers for the Rajya Sabha polls, the Congress is preparing to take its protest from the courtroom to the streets. Details of the campaign will be announced next week, sources said.

The top court on Friday dismissed the Congress leader's plea while granting her liberty to raise the challenge in an election petition. A bench comprising Justices Prashant Kumar Mishra and Atul S Chandurkar rejected the argument by Natarajan's counsel senior advocate Abhishek Singhvi, that Article 32 can be invoked to cure "glaring and manifest" errors in rejection of her nomination.

Party sources said discussions on the next legal step are ongoing. Alongside its nationwide campaign on unemployment and examination paper leaks announced on Thursday, the Congress is also expected to focus on what it calls "electoral manipulation".

Natarajan told the media that she had duly filled Form 26 and that there was no column to disclose private complaints. "If there was a column for it, I would have given the details," she said at a press meet.

"Since the matter is sub-judice and is being heard in the Supreme Court today, I will not discuss all the points as it would not be appropriate. But I will talk about one thing that is already in the public domain and is also present on the Election Commission's website: The root of this entire matter is Form 26, in which it was claimed that I failed to record certain information and concealed facts," she said.

The most important requirement, Natarajan said, is disclosure of any pending criminal case or conviction for a punishable offence.

"Naturally, I wrote 'Not Applicable' for all these things because there is only a legal notice against me, and I included the full legal details of that notice in the memorandum I submitted to the EC. There is only that single legal notice which the court has not even taken cognisance of yet. Therefore, there should be clarity on where the column to record such information actually was," she said.

Madhya Pradesh Congress chief Jitu Patwari said this was the first instance in Indian politics in which nomination of a Rajya Sabha candidate had been rejected, and that it had become a topic of national discussion.

In a statement, the Congress described the June 2026 Rajya Sabha election as a story of two candidates—one "a billionaire friend of PM Modi" representing corporate interests and another from an ordinary family representing constitutional values.

Policy for CBSE students from W Asia

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Friday told the Supreme Court that it was considering framing a policy to provide relief to private students from West Asia whose CBSE (Central Board of Secondary Education) board examination results have not been declared due to the ongoing conflict in the region.

The SC observing a partial working day (earlier called the vacation bench), headed by Justice Augustine George Masih and also comprising Justice Vijay Bishnoi, was apprised by the Solicitor General (SG) Tushar Mehta that the Centre is mulling introducing some policies shortly in the matter involving career of many students.

"This is a wider issue; the union government is considering laying down some policy for similarly situated students," the law officer told the SC.

The Centre's submissions came as the SC was hearing a plea filed by Pransu Jigarkumar Patel, challenging the CBSE's failure to declare his result despite an assessment scheme having been framed for students affected by the cancellation of examinations in several Gulf countries.

Mehta further submitted that the matter may be heard on June 22. Hearing Mehta's contentions, the bench allowed his prayer and adjourned the matter for further hearing to June 22. Patel had moved the top court challenging the CBSE's failure to declare his result.

On the last date of hearing on June 8, the SC—while agreeing to hear the case—earlier issued notices to the CBSE and its regional officer on Patel's plea and asked them to file the detailed reply. "This is about the career of a child; he will miss all his admissions. Whatever it is, burn the midnight oil," the bench had earlier said orally, asking the counsel for CBSE to take instructions on the issue.

Patel highlighted that he is a bona fide student who appeared as a private candidate in the CBSE Class XII Improvement Examination, 2026, from Al Jubail in Physics, Chemistry, English, Mathematics and Computer Science.

During the examination, owing to war-related tensions prevailing in the Gulf region, CBSE cancelled examinations of several subjects.

Meanwhile, the Delhi High Court on Friday refused to direct the CBSE to keep the Class XII exam verification and re-evaluation portal open for aggrieved students for now. A vacation bench, while hearing NSUT's petition, said that passing such an order would eventually lead to a delay in the exam results and that it did not want to cause that.

SC denies bail to 60-year-old 'lady don' in NDPS case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday rejected the bail plea of a 60-year-old woman in a case under the NDPS Act while stating that she (the accused) was no longer "a lady" but a "lady don". The apex court refused to grant bail to the woman accused in the narcotics case, as Justice Prashant Kumar Mishra remarked during the hearing that she had "lost the credibility of being a lady" due to her repeated involvement in similar offences.

A bench of Justices Mishra and Atul S Chandurkar was hearing a Special Leave Petition (SLP) challenging a March 26, 2026 order of the Madhya Pradesh High Court, which had rejected the woman's fourth bail application in connection with the crime.

Appearing for the petitioner, the counsel pleaded for leniency citing her age, and claimed she had been falsely implicated.

4,399 days: A historic mandate, transforming India

AMIT MALVIYA
National head of BJP's Information & Technology and Sah Prabhari of West Bengal

ON June 10, 2026, Prime Minister Narendra Modi became the longest-serving elected prime minister in India's history, completing 4,399 consecutive days in office and surpassing the previous record held by Jawaharlal Nehru.

This milestone is not merely about longevity in office. It is a reflection of the extraordinary trust that the people of India have placed in one leader and one vision across three successive general elections.

In 2014, India voted for change. In 2019, it voted for performance. In 2024, it voted for continuity, confidence and the promise of a developed India. Few democratic leaders anywhere in the world have secured such a sustained and emphatic endorsement from their people.

At a time when many democracies are grappling with instability, fractured mandates and frequent political transitions, India has demonstrated the strength that comes from decisive leadership backed by popular legitimacy. The world's largest democracy has shown that political stability and democratic accountability can go hand in hand.

Over the last twelve years, India has undergone a transformation that has touched virtually every aspect of national life.

From financial inclusion and social welfare to infrastructure, digital governance and economic reform, governance has increasingly become synonymous with scale, speed and transparency. Hundreds of millions have gained access to banking, housing, sanitation, clean cooking fuel and healthcare. Roads, railways, airports and logistics networks have expanded at an unprecedented pace, creating the foundations of a modern and aspirational India.

The Digital India revolution has placed India at the forefront of technology-enabled governance. Today, India leads the world in real-time digital payments, possesses globally admired digital public infrastructure and has emerged as the world's third-largest startup ecosystem. Technology is no longer the privilege of a few; it has become an instrument of empowerment for millions.

Equally significant has been the rise of women-led development. Through greater financial inclusion, entrepreneurship, education and grassroots participation, women have become central stakeholders in India's growth story. Their empowerment is no longer viewed as a social objective alone but as a national development imperative.

India's growing stature on the global stage has been another defining feature of this era. Under Prime Minister Modi's leadership, India has emerged as a trusted voice in global affairs and a reliable partner in trade, technology, development and humanitarian assistance.

Whether during crises, international negotiations or global economic transitions, India today speaks with confidence and is heard with respect.

The journey has also been marked by a strong commitment to innovation and sustainability. India's renewable energy capacity has expanded dramatically, artificial intelligence and emerging technologies are being embraced at scale, and pioneering conservation efforts have demonstrated that development and environmental stewardship can advance together.

Yet the significance of this moment extends beyond policy and governance.

Prime Minister Modi's journey, from humble beginnings to becoming India's longest-serving elected prime minister, is a testament to the strength of Indian democracy itself. It reflects a nation where public service, perseverance and dedication can take an individual from the grassroots to the highest elected office.

Having served for more than twelve years as chief minister of Gujarat and twelve years as prime minister, Narendra Modi has now spent nearly twenty-five years as an elected head of government. Few leaders in modern democratic history have enjoyed such longevity while continuing to command such broad public support.

History will remember the number—4,399 days. But future generations may remember this period for something far greater: the transformation of India into a more confident, capable, connected and globally influential nation.

Today is not only a milestone in the life of one leader. It is a milestone in the democratic journey of India.

A moment that reflects the trust of 140 crore Indians. A moment that celebrates continuity, stability and development. A moment that reaffirms the collective resolve to build a Viksit Bharat. 4,399 days. Three mandates. One vision. A stronger India.

At INDIA bloc meeting, Rahul renews call for Oppn unity to fight BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AT the meeting of the INDIA bloc leaders earlier this week, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said that going by the anger among the people, the next general election is "already won" but the main problem is that there won't be a fair election to win.

"Mamata ji is not 100% sure, but she is about 90% sure that her election was stolen from her. Uddhav ji is 40% sure that his election was stolen. My brother Tejashwi ji is 40% sure. 100% the elections are being stolen. Please remove doubt from your minds," he said.

Gandhi released his full speech on Friday, in which he gave a clarion call to the leaders to stay united, saying it is easy to beat the BJP "if we stand together and resist".

Gandhi urged opposition parties to get rid of the notion that they are not coordinated and do not act together.

"These are all ideas the BJP is putting out. This is not true—I am 100% sure, and I can vouch right now for the DMK. When it comes to defending the idea of India, every single person will be in this room. We have our fights, but if you are asking me to go and hug the ex-chief minister of Kerala—I cannot and I will not, because I have an ongoing political fight with him," he said.

Gandhi urged the opposition parties to be flexible and realise that there is a full-scale assault on them.

Responding to the criticism of the Congress by its allies, including the Left parties, he said whatever criticism they have of him or his party will be accepted. Gandhi stressed that he has no interest in fighting with allies. "We won the last election in 2024. We did not lose. You ask why Nitish ji left, it was not because of the Congress," he said.

Mamata ji is not 100% sure, but she is 90% sure that her election was stolen from her. Uddhav ji is 40% sure that his election was stolen.

Fall in oil prices, rise in rupee to 94.9 (intraday) against $ have improved near-term outlook for equities
Siddhartha Khemka of Motilal Oswal

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi
DOMESTIC equity market on Friday logged its sharpest rally in two months over optimism surrounding a potential US-Iran peace deal, a fall in crude oil prices below the $88 mark and a recovery in rupee. After warning Iran of severe consequences, US President Donald Trump retracted and said a deal with Tehran could be signed as soon as this weekend. Iran has not indicated yet that a final decision with the US is within reach.

If the two countries agree to a deal, it will lead to the restoration of peace in West Asia and a drop in global crude oil prices. This will be a big positive for the Indian market as the conflict, which began on February 28, severely undermined market sentiment by raising concerns over India's dependence on imported oil.

The Sensex surged 1,695.40 points (2.30%) on Friday to close at 75,527.95, while the Nifty gained 461.30 points (1.99%) to settle at 23,622.90, reclaiming and closing above the 23,600 mark. The broader market outperformed the benchmark indices with the Nifty Midcap 100 gaining 2.43%, while the Nifty Small Cap 100 advancing 2.80%. Friday's rally drove market capitalisation of listed stocks on BSE to ₹462.05 lakh crore from ₹452.33 lakh crore earlier, making investors richer by ₹9.71 lakh crore.

India's volatility index (VIX) fell 5.7%, indicating easing volatility and improving investor confidence. Meanwhile, rupee traded with gains of 0.77% or 75 paise near 95.10 as improving sentiment around potential geopolitical resolutions supported risk assets.

Jateen Trivedi, VP research analyst, commodity and currency, LKP Securities, said optimism surrounding progress on a nuclear deal, ongoing diplomatic discussions, and expectations of stronger global cooperation via G7-related engagements helped boost confidence in currency market.

Siddhartha Khemka, head of research, Wealth Management, Motilal Oswal Financial Services, said reports indicating that negotiations between the two nations (US and Iran) are nearing completion have reduced fears of disruptions to global crude oil supplies, pushing oil prices below $90 per barrel mark. The market recovery suggests investors are beginning to price in a favourable geopolitical outcome.

Shares of Elon Musk-led SpaceX listed at $150 on Friday against the IPO price of $135, a listing gain of 11%. Shortly after trading began, the stock surged past $160, lifting the firm's market cap above $2 trillion. At the time of filing the report, the shares were trading at $167 a piece.

S'pore court stays jail order against Byju Raveendran

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Singapore High Court has stayed a six-month imprisonment order in a civil contempt matter against Byju Raveendran, the founder of the beleaguered edtech firm Byju's, a statement from the entrepreneur on Friday said.

Last month, the court ordered six months' jail for contempt of court by the edtech firm founder over alleged non-compliance with disclosure orders. However, no arrest warrant was issued. The court had ordered Raveendran to surrender by June 15.

The court had ordered Raveendran to surrender himself to authorities, pay legal costs of Singapore $90,000 ($70,500) and produce documents relating to his ownership of Beear Investco Pte, a Singapore entity that held shares in an affiliated company.

Raveendran now will not require to surrender, and no term of imprisonment takes effect. He said an appeal against the contempt finding has also been filed. Raveendran added that at times when parties have been engaged in settlement discussions, it is unfortunate that a misleading impression of wrongdoing is being created.

The case was brought before the Singapore court by a subsidiary of Qatar Investment Authority, which invested in Byju's during a funding round as the company was grappling with layoffs and mounting financial pressure. The contempt proceedings add to broader legal battles surrounding Byju's, including ongoing litigation in the United States where lenders are seeking to recover losses tied to a $1.2 billion term loan.

GOVT CAPS DIESEL SALES TO CURB BLACK MARKETING

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

IN a bid to curb bulk diesel purchases at petrol pumps across the country, the government has barred the sale of more than 200 litres of diesel per customer or vehicle per day. The resale of such fuel will also not be permitted.

As per a notification issued by the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas, violations of the order will attract penalties and other legal action under the Essential Commodities Act, 1955, and other applicable laws. The notification, which is a temporary measure, states industrial, direct, institutional and commercial consumers are prohibited from procuring fuel from retail outlets and must source their requirements via designated consumer pumps.

The notification further states that Oil Marketing Companies (OMCs) and retail outlet dealers will be responsible for ensuring compliance with the prescribed restrictions and preventing any attempts to circumvent the provisions of the order. State governments and Union Territory administrations have also been directed to take necessary action against malpractices such as black marketing and unauthorized diversion of fuel to safeguard the interests of retail consumers.

These regulations are temporary measures and will initially remain in force for up to 90 days to ensure adequate diesel availability for retail consumers.

The move comes amid a growing trend of industrial, direct, institutional and commercial consumers shifting their diesel procurement from dedicated consumer pumps to retail outlets due to the price differential between bulk and retail diesel. Another reason cited by the government is the sharp decline in high-speed diesel (HSD) sales by private oil marketing companies, which fell by around 58% in May 2026 due to higher prices charged by them. Data for May 2026, compared with the corresponding period last year, show a significant surge in diesel sales through retail outlets operated by public sector OMCs. As many as 327 districts recorded growth of more than 10%, while 80 districts reported growth exceeding 30%.

Air India may defer aircraft deliveries, expansion plans

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TO cut mounting losses in the backdrop of several headwinds, Tata Group-run Air India is looking to defer aircraft deliveries, cut flights and postpone expansion plans. As per a Bloomberg report citing sources, Air India is in talks with aircraft manufacturers Airbus SE and Boeing Co. to slow down deliveries of as many as 500 planes earlier ordered.

This, as per the report, would enable Air India to push back the large payments due to plane makers upon delivery. The carrier is reevaluating plans to fly to new domestic and global destinations, pruning some routes and postponing launches at some airports such as the new Noida International Airport (NIA), the people familiar with the matter said.

Air India last month announced it has temporarily reduced its international flight capacity by 27%, cutting nearly 145 weekly flights between June and August. The carrier reduced up to 22% of its domestic flights to cut costs.

Singapore Airlines' annual financial statement revealed Air India's losses stood at about $2.8 billion last financial year (FY26), its biggest annual loss since the airline was taken over by the Tata Group in 2022.

The losses have escalated to record levels due to frequent airspace closures in West Asia and a permanent closure in Pakistan since March last year, rising fuel expenses and the impact of rupee fall against US dollar. These challenges exacerbate the repercussions from the tragic Ahmedabad (Flight AI 171) crash on June 12, 2025, which resulted in 241 people on board and 19 people outside losing their lives.

Friday (June 12, 2026) marked the first anniversary of the deadly crash. Meanwhile, the Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau (AAIB) stated that the probe into the crash has entered its final analysis stage. An Air India spokesperson said the Bloomberg queries were highly speculative, and the carrier remains committed to modernising its fleet and carrying out its long-term transformation plan.

ELECTRIC PUSH

Ultraviolet eyes 5L bikes a year; to set up plant in TN

SANAL SUDEVAN @ Chennai

Sees strong traction in global markets

The company is also witnessing strong traction for its motorcycles in the international markets. Ultraviolet currently exports to 19 countries, including Germany, Spain, Netherlands and the United Kingdom.

BENGALURU-based electric two-wheeler manufacturer Ultraviolet plans to produce 5 lakh units annually by the end of FY29 to cater to growing demand for energy-efficient motorcycles.

It aims to ramp up output to 20,000 vehicles a month by the end of FY28. To achieve this, it has earmarked an investment of ₹200 crore to double capacity of its existing plant in Bengaluru's Electronic City and set up a new plant with an annual output capacity of 2.5 lakh units. The plant near Electronic City has an annual capacity of 30,000 units, which will be raised to 60,000 units over next few months. Ultravioletette to establish another manufacturing unit, for which it has signed an MoU with the Karnataka government. The proposed unit will have the capacity of 2.5 lakh units annually. Niraj Rajmohan said, "We see huge demand for our bikes. However, once this ₹200 crore investment is fully utilised, the question is what comes next." He hinted that the company may set up a facility may come up in Tamil Nadu.

Cyber talent crunch widens as AI threats surge

PADMINI DHURVARAJ @ Bengaluru

INDIA is facing a shortage of cybersecurity specialists in emerging areas such as cloud, AI, operational technology and IoT security, even as companies deploy AI systems and prepare for a new generation of machine-speed cyber threats.

The country has around 300,000 cybersecurity professionals, but nearly 19% change employers every year, resulting in the same pool of specialists moving between companies instead of expanding the talent base. Around 39,000 cybersecurity positions remain open despite an annual addition of 40,000-60,000 professionals, according to CareerNet's India Cybersecurity Talent Outlook 2026.

IN DEMAND

- 39,000 cybersecurity positions remain open
- Cloud-native witnesses most workforce churn
- India has 300,000 cybersecurity specialists

The report said that demand is highest in domains with the smallest talent pools. IoT and connected devices security recorded a demand ratio of 237% despite having only 4,612 professionals, while blockchain and Web3 security reported a demand ratio of 230% with a workforce of 1,736 specialists.

Cloud-native and container security recorded the highest workforce churn at 26.67%, followed by AI and machine learning security at 25.97%, reflecting competition for a limited pool of specialists. "Cybersecu-rity hiring has become one of the few areas where companies are increasingly unwilling to compromise on quality, even under hiring pressure," said Neelabh Shukla, chief business officer at CareerNet.

"In cybersecurity, especially across cloud, OT, infrastructure, and AI-led environments, the cost of a capability gap is far more immediate," he said.

The shortage comes as organisations adopt agentic AI systems. Research by Veeam Software showed that 93% of Indian organisations are already using or piloting AI agents and 44% have deployed them in production. However, 42% of executives identified risks arising from autonomous agent behaviour and decision chaining as a key factor slowing AI adoption.

Board of Tata Sons approves annual accounts, dividends; skips key issues

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE six-member board of Tata Sons, under the chairmanship of Natarajan Chandrasekaran, was held at the Bombay House on Friday, which didn't have any of the key issues such as its listing or a third term for the chairman on the agenda, except clearing the annual accounts and dividends.

"The board didn't discuss any of the issues which the media was speculating. The meeting approved the annual accounts of the group, along with dividends," a person aware of the developments told TNIE. "The meeting didn't discuss any of the key issues including a third-term for Chandra, or the issue of listing Tata Sons and losses at some of the key unlisted companies like Air India, Tata Digital, which are under direct control of Chandra," another source said.

These companies last month made a three-year turnaround plans to the trusts.

Under its articles of association, the holding company of the $265 billion Tata Group can have a maximum of nine board members, of which three are nominees of the Tata Trusts, which own 66.4% in Tata Sons. The board comprises chairman Chandrasekaran, vice-chairman Noel Naval Tata, Venu Srinivasan from the trusts, Saurabh Agrawal (exec director group CFO) and independent directors Harish Manwani and Anita George.

After the near-breakdown of communications between Tata Trusts and Tata Sons since the February 24 board meeting held to recommend a third term to Chandra but failed to do so after trusts led by Noel Tata raised concerns about the mounting losses at Air India and the new-age businesses.

Haiti hoping to do country proud

BOSTON: When Haiti's soccer team lines up against Scotland on June 13, 2026, its players will be representing the Caribbean nation at a World Cup for the first time since 1974. They will also embody the complexities and possibilities of Haiti and its diaspora. Of the 26 players selected for the squad, only 10 were born in Haiti. And just one, Woodensky Pierre, plays for a Haitian club. Twelve were born in France of Haitian parents, one in Canada, one in Switzerland and two in the United States. The team is both a symbol of national pride and a condensation of battles Haitians have long fought for dignity and self-determination. Soccer commentator Nico Cantor captured this powerfully when he effused about the deep meaning of Haiti's qualification for the World Cup on Nov 18, 2025, exactly 222 years after revolutionary leader Jean Jacques Dessalines fought a famous battle against the French on the way to independence. "Their national team has given Haiti something to be proud of," Cantor said. "It is historic for many reasons." A US government ban has prevented fans travelling from Haiti, a country plagued for years by instability. The United Nations recently said almost 1.5 million people within Haiti have been displaced due to gang violence.

In-beom leads Korea's 2-1 win

TALES AZZONI @ Guadalajara

HWANG In-beom scored a goal and set up another as South Korea rallied to defeat the Czech Republic 2-1 in the second match of the 2026 World Cup on Thursday night. After a lackluster first half in which both teams were jeered as they left the field, the Czech Republic took the lead in the 59th minute on a header by captain Ladislav Krejci after a long throw-in into the penalty area.

South Korea equalised in the 67th, when Hwang scored after faking a shot with a nifty move to clear two Czech players. The midfielder who plays for Dutch club Feyenoord then made the cross from the right flank for Oh Hyeon-gyu's decisive strike in the 80th in a match played in front of hundreds of empty seats at Guadalajara Stadium. The South Korean squad celebrated with their fans behind one of the goals after the final whistle. Players later posed for a photo with the fans behind them. "It was our first game and a very difficult one," South Korea coach Hong Myung-bo said. "The win itself makes me happy, but what's even more positive is that our boys won by not giving up. I knew that we were more than capable of winning, so at 1-1, I told the boys to keep playing the way we've been playing."

Result: Korea 2 (In-beom 67', Hyeon-gyu 80') bt Czechia 1 (Krejci 59').

Skull fracture to goal moment

JACK LITTLE @ Mexico City

RAÚL Jiménez finally has his star moment in a World Cup for Mexico. The 35-year-old striker burst into tears after scoring El Tri's second goal against South Africa as Mexico opened the 2026 World Cup with a 2-0 win.

It was the first World Cup goal for Jiménez, who suffered a skull fracture while playing for Wolverhampton on Nov 29, 2020 and had to undergo life-saving surgery. Within two weeks, Jiménez was back at training. He fully recovered several months later, but the injury forced him to wear protective headgear for the rest of his career.

Jiménez has suffered other injuries and dips in form in the years since, including a poor 2022 World Cup. He failed to score as Mexico failed to reach the knockout stage for the first time since 1978. His biggest moment for Mexico may have been a bicycle kick in a victory against Panama in qualifying for the 2014 World Cup, which was honored as the CONCACAF goal of the year. He was a reserve player for El Tri during that tournament in Brazil. "I read an interview where he said this has to be his World Cup," Mexico coach Javier Aguirre said. "I think he got off to a flying start. He had always been in someone else's shadow, but today he is a starter for this team — and he has truly earned it."

In March, Jiménez lost his biggest supporter when his father, Raúl Jiménez Vega, died at 62. Jiménez wept after scoring for Fulham on March 21 against Burnley.

"On top of that, he was dealing with a personal situation that may have given him extra motivation," Aguirre said. "And he even scored a goal. It was a perfect day for him."

Brazil seek light of 'Don' in WC

Five-time champions will hope that the seasoned Italian coach can help team regain lost sheen. Swaroop Swaminathan assesses Selecao's chances ahead of their opener

IN May 2025, something seismic happened within the context of the Brazilian national team. The federation, after hiring and firing managers, finally landed one of the most successful coaches in history. Carlo Ancelotti, serial winner and one of the greatest club coaches of all time, had swapped the comfort of some of the grandest European sides for the greatest national side in world football. There was, however, one catch. Brazil had never employed a foreign coach at a World Cup. It didn't matter. Having endured a prolonged slump, they were willing to disregard history. After some back and forth, the Italian said yes.

At the Copa America in 2024, the Selecao were eliminated in the quarterfinals. To compound matters, they were wobbling in the World Cup qualifiers a year later. In March 2025, Argentina had thrashed them 4-1. The federation just didn't know what was happening; there was only a sense of chaos wherever they looked. Don Carlo, as he's popularly called, came in and helped arrest the slide.

In the interim, Ancelotti, who exudes a sense of calm and charm wherever he has worked, was already working his magic. One story goes that when a few federation officials spoke to him in broken Spanish and Italian, he responded to them by saying 'I'm the one who has to make the effort to speak Portuguese here', according to the BBC. He really made the effort. He hired a teacher and had multiple lessons a week. The linguist picked it up pretty soon. Ancelotti may or may not work out for the national team but these are the small things that he has always insisted on doing wherever he has gone. It's why the Selecao are cautiously optimistic. After decades of going into the World Cup as perennial favourites, they arrive in the US not as the top dogs but it won't bother their coach one bit.

If Pep Guardiola and Marcelo Bielsa are two of the most popular coaches in terms of systems, coaching and reimagining the modern game, Ancelotti is the ultimate man manager. He gets the players in a way no other coach has been able to. You need to have special skills to survive the toxicity of the Real Madrid dressing room while getting all the egos inside that room to work together. He was able to do that and deliver titles across Europe.

When in charge of an international during a tournament like this, these things count for a lot. There's anyway not a lot of time to leave your own specific stylistic preferences in under 45 days but it's about getting the buy-in and managing as well as massaging egos.

In this context, it also helps the 67-year-old that he has previously worked with one of their main men, Vinicius Jr.

The mercurial wide man has been a hit and miss but the Italian managed to bring the best out of the 25-year-old when he was the Real manager a few years ago. That's the kind of synergy he brings to the table. While certain sections of the media have unfairly labelled the Italian as a 'clap your hands' manager, what he does really well is trust his players and give them the necessary space to breathe. In an already high-pressure environment like the World Cup, players value those things. "Maybe it's my attitude, the way I behave towards the players," he had once told The Guardian in an interview. "The respect I show them as people. I place great value on building those personal relationships."

When the federation recruited Ancelotti, there was no sign of tempering. If anything, they went to town. "Bringing Carlo Ancelotti," the federation president, Ednaldo Rodrigues, "to lead Brazil is more than a strategic move. It's a statement to the world that we are determined to regain the top spot on the podium. He is the greatest coach in history and now he is in charge of the greatest national team on the planet. Together, we will write glorious new chapters."

But if they are to be successful in US, Ancelotti and Brazil will have to shatter 96 years of evidence and accepted wisdom. No foreign coach has won the World Cup.

RANA'S LEGACY WILL BE HARD TO FOLLOW

INDRANEEL DAS/ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

28 JUNE, 1976 - 12 JUNE, 2026

JASPAL RANA didn't know the subtlety of camouflaging bitter truth with sweeteners. His words usually seemed difficult to swallow but like his shooting skill, they were never off the mark and more often than not hits the target. Fiery in nature with a strict demeanor, Rana was considered a tough taskmaster and an iconoclast. But once you build the trust, it's difficult to live without him. And of course, he was a man who knew nothing about retreating. But there was softness in his heart.

The nonchalant attitude came across as affront to some, especially officials of the sport. But Jaspal never cared. There were times when the entire posse of shooting officials slighted him. No matter how hard he was pushed around he found ways to bounce back. He always called spade a spade.

Jaspal was quite outspoken and straight forward too. He always used to say that what ever he used to do was for the sport and its future. This very trait of his used to bring him in direct confrontation with the authorities. He suffered and suffered but he never complained nor back down. He never cared. Now, he never will. British singer Ozzy Osbourne's song echoes the sentiments: "Leaving, I hate to see you cry/ Grieving, I hate to say goodbye/ Dust and ash forever, yeah/ Though I know we must be parted/ As sure as stars are in the sky/ I'm gonna see when it comes to glory/ And I'll see you, I'll see you on the other side..."

Ask double Olympic medallist Manu Bhaker, who considered him as a father figure. Weeks before the Paris Olympics, during a casual conversation, Manu admitted to The New Indian Express, "When I see him (her coach Jaspal Rana) around, I get courage." Rana, later in Chateauroux, venue for the Paris Games shooting, said, "If you believe in someone you just don't need to talk."

That happens with any coach and a ward I think." When Manu won the bronze, he quietly left. And emerged only after the spotlight shifted from Manu. Understandably, Manu is distraught.

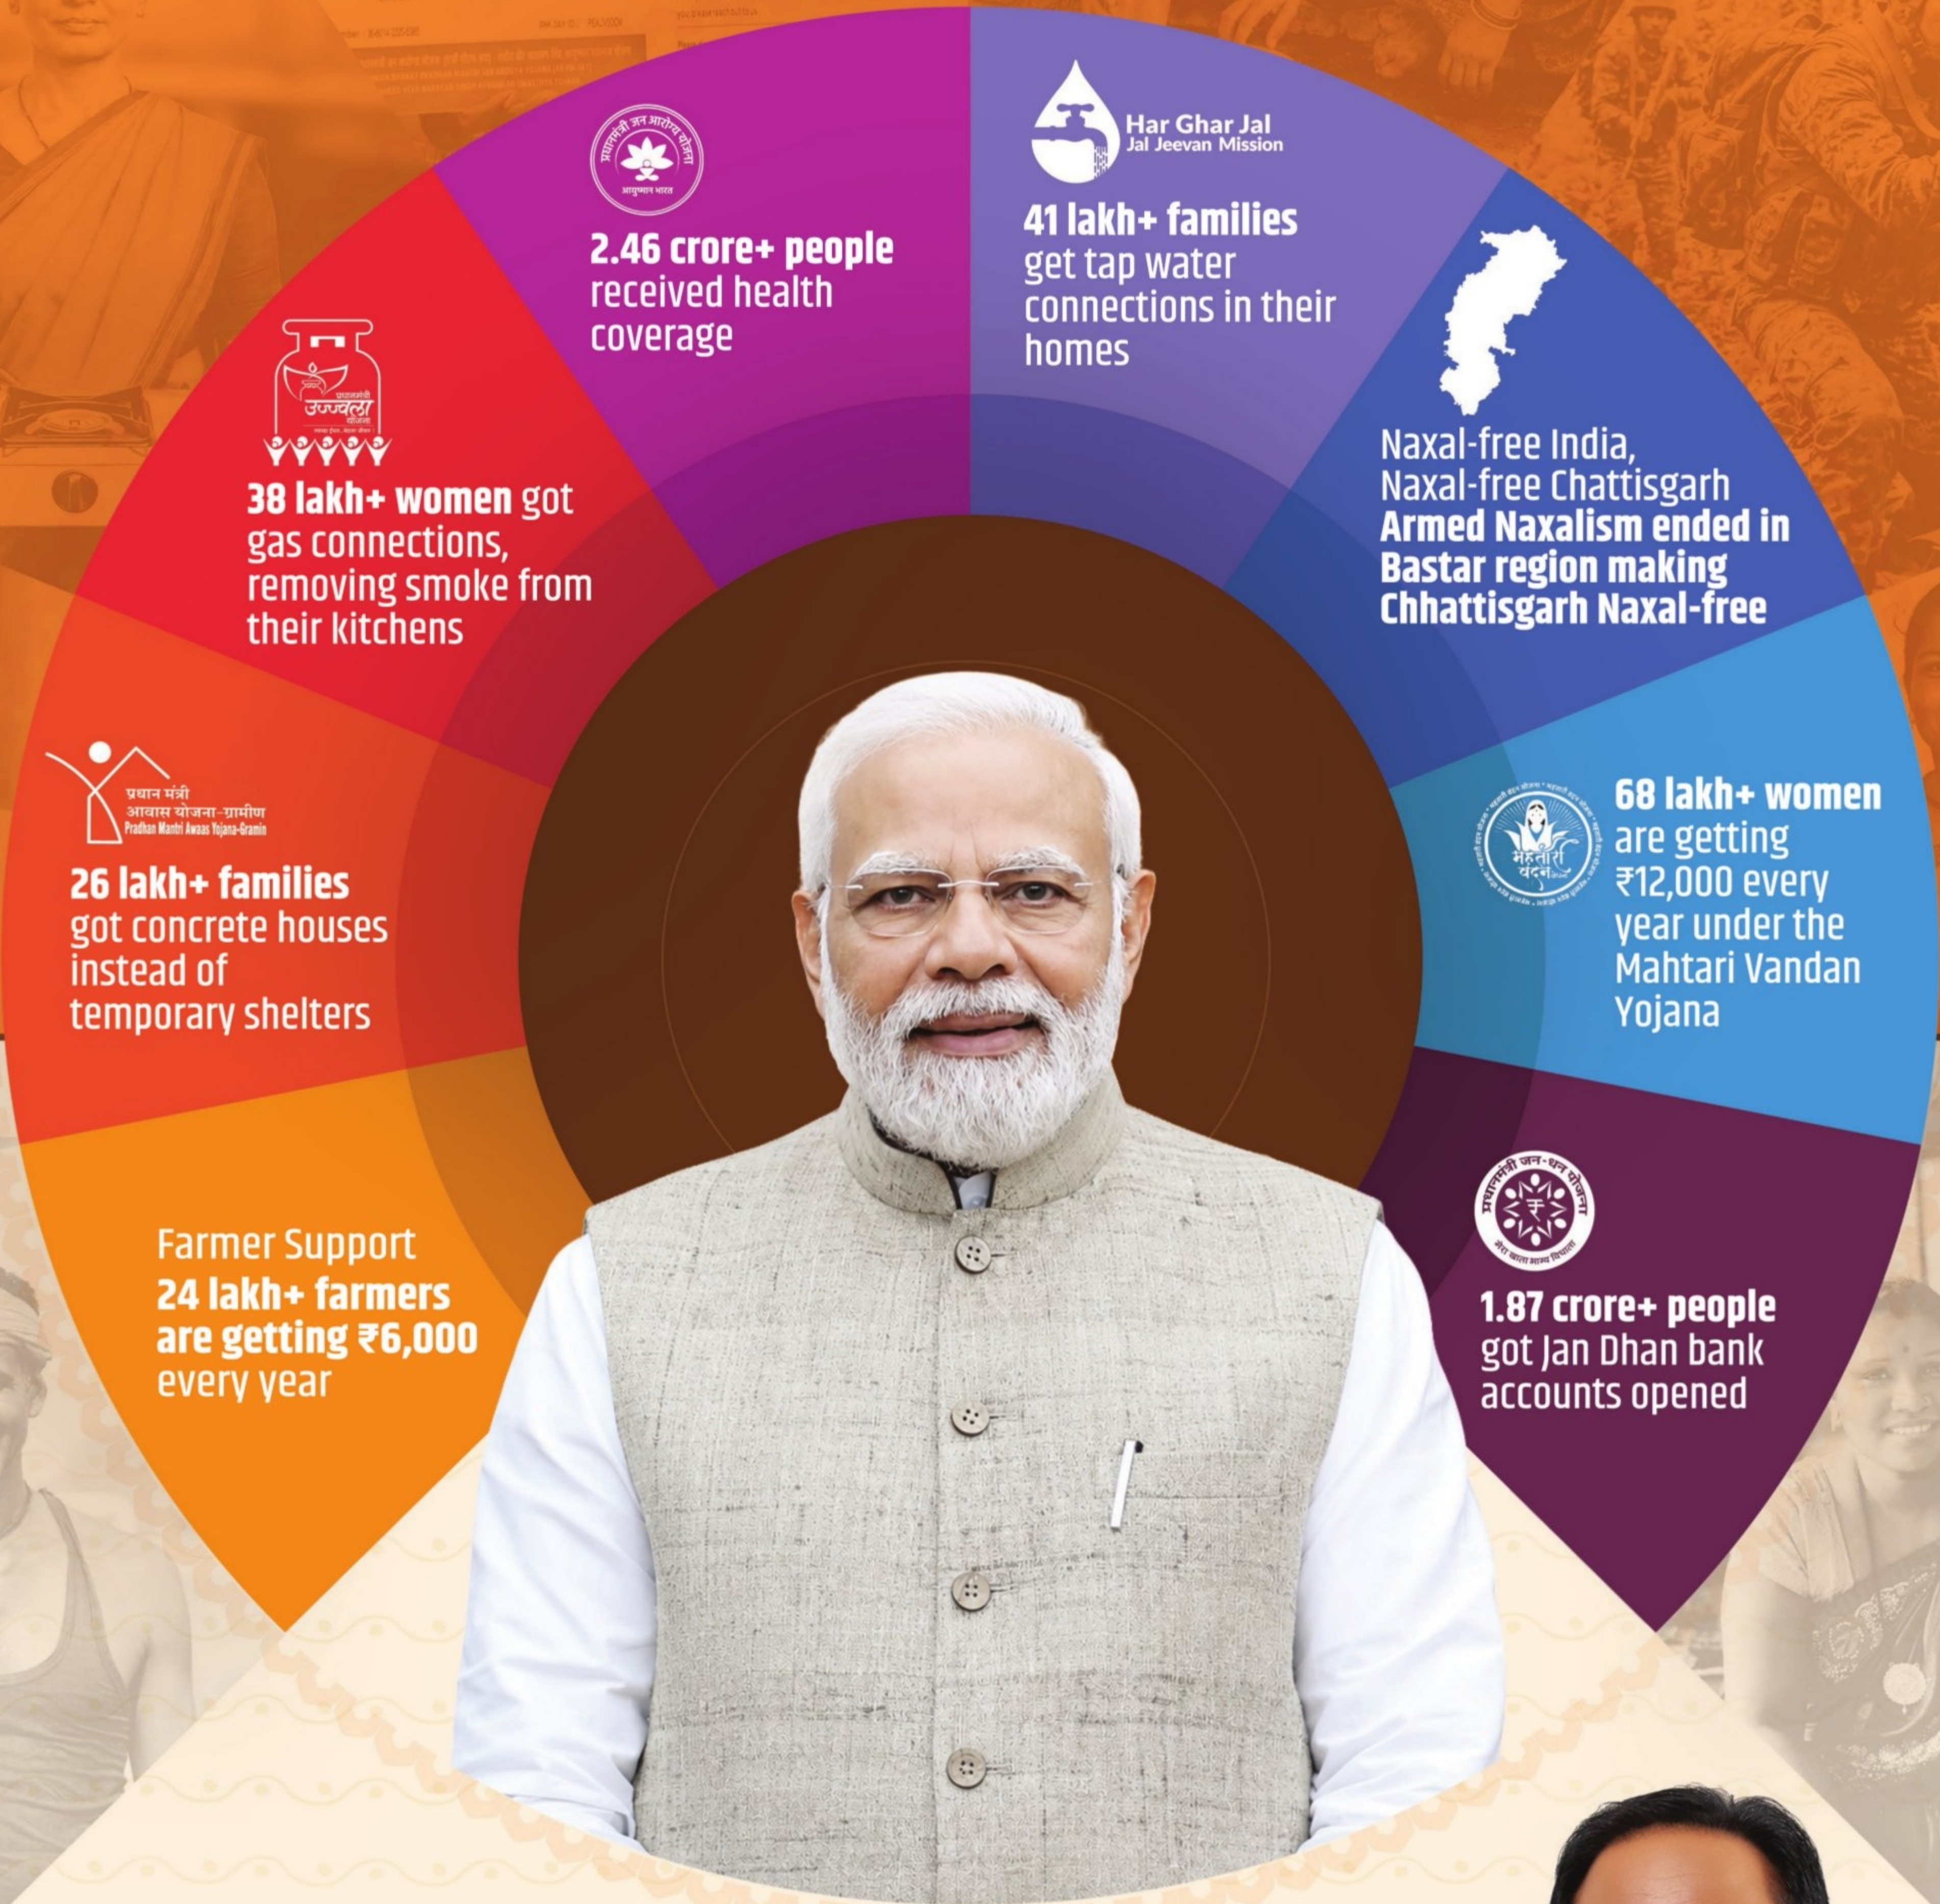

He was so committed to his coaching that Rana never cared about anything else. One can even say that he was obsessed. His acumen for spotting talent at a very young age made him stand out as a junior national coach. And one thing he never cared about is money. Rana could safely be called the rockstar of Indian shooting. One brought about a revolution. He may not have won an Olympic medal but was considered one of the best pistol shooters in the country. This was captured by Abhinav Bindra's words.

"Jaspal was my teammate, and in many ways, part of a generation that helped shape Indian shooting. He was intense, gifted, and carried the pride of the country every time he stepped onto the range," he wrote on his social media handle. "Jaspal's contribution to Indian sports goes far beyond his medals. He gave back to shooting with the same intensity with which he competed."

Iran agreed to dismantle nuclear programme, claims White House

Mediator Pakistan says final text of US-Iran peace deal agreed

TEHRAN

US President Donald Trump said on Friday that Tehran's stated version of a deal on stopping the war is not what was agreed to, with the White House insisting Tehran would dismantle its nuclear programme.

It comes as Pakistan's Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif said that the final text of a US-Iran peace deal had been agreed. "We can confirm that a final, agreed upon text of the peace deal has been reached and Pakistan is now working closely with both sides to finalise the next steps," Sharif posted on social media.

Earlier in the day, the US and Iran released starkly different accounts of the proposed agreement, with Tehran insisting on its right to enrich uranium and maintain control over the Strait of Hormuz. "The terms that Iran leaked out to the Fake News have NOTHING to do with the terms that were agreed to, in writing," Trump said in a post on his Truth Social network.

"What they said, including their weak and pathetic statement on having a deal, bears no relation to the truth. Very dishonest people to deal with," Trump added.

"They better get their act together, and FAST!" Trump said in a statement on his Truth Social platform. A senior Trump administration official said the Iranians had agreed to five key points in the deal.

"This is what they have agreed to. This is a perform-

A person stands in shallow water as cargo and commercial vessels are anchored in the Strait of Hormuz off Bandar Abbas, Iran | AFP

ance-based deal," the official told AFP on condition of anonymity.

Iran's nuclear material will be destroyed and removed, and its nuclear program will be dismantled under the deal, the official said.

Iran's frozen funds will not be released until they meet the conditions; the Strait of Hormuz will be open; and Iran will not fund terrorist groups, the official added.

But Tehran's official IRNA news agency said stripping Iran of its enriched nuclear material was not even on the table, while it would insist on managing traffic through the Strait of Hormuz.

After inking an initial memorandum of understanding, IRNA said, Iran and the United States would hold 60 days of talks and that "Iran's right to enrich uranium and the retention of enriched material... will be emphasised with a view to their inclusion in the final agreement".

Meanwhile, Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi said Washington and Tehran have "never been closer" to a deal on ending the war.

"The Islamabad Memorandum of Understanding has never been closer," Araghchi wrote on X, referring to the Pakistani capital which hosted previous US-Iran talks.

"Pending its finalisation, the media should refrain from entering speculation about its content," he added, after purported details of the accord were published by Iranian media.

The clash over the content of the deal comes as both sides seek to show that they have come out with the upper hand following the war that the United States and Israel launched on Iran on February 28. AFP

Tehran's grip over Strait of Hormuz loosening

DUBAI

IRAN'S stranglehold on the Strait of Hormuz may be easing — and its own oil problems now seem to be mounting.

The crucial strait at the mouth of the Persian Gulf, through which a fifth of the world's oil and natural gas supplies once passed, has been effectively shut by Iran's attacks on shipping since the start of the war in February.

Even with much of its navy sunk, just Iran's threat to attack made shippers and insurers hesitant to send vessels through the strait. The resulting energy crunch has fueled global inflation, including in the US.

The situation, however, appears to be shifting. Analysts say more oil from Gulf Arab states appears to be getting out to market, with the help of the US military.

US President Donald Trump says a "secret mission" to provide overwatch for ships got more than 100 million barrels of crude oil out. Meanwhile, American forces imposing a blockade have repeatedly shot at or stopped ships associated with Iran's sanctioned oil trade, affecting the country's ability to get the hard currency it needs.

The flow of oil remains below the 15 million barrels a day that once came through the strait. So it won't satiate the global energy market, especially as nations draw down their reserves, which have been used to somewhat cushion the blow to world supplies.

But if the flow can be sustained or ramped up, it could change the calculus of the crisis. Iran's ability to hurt the world economy with its grip on the strait has been its greatest advantage, giving it confidence it can outlast the US. AP

Ukrainian soldiers practice military skills at a training ground near the frontline in the Zaporizhzhia region, Ukraine on Friday | AP

Ukraine reclaimed more land in May than it lost

KYIV

UKRAINE recaptured more territory than it lost to Russian forces in May for the second straight month, an analysis of data from the Institute for the Study of War (ISW) showed.

Ukraine's army gained a net 282 square kilometres over the month, according to the analysis, as Kyiv hails its improving fortunes on the sprawling battlefield across the south and east of the country.

The pace of Russia's advance has been slowing since late 2025, hobbled by the increasing effectiveness of Ukraine's frontline and mid-range drone strikes, the ISW said.

Moscow had lost control of around 120 square kilometres in April, the first month in which its forces gave up more ground than they captured for two and a half years.

However, Russian soldiers are still infiltrated in most of the areas where Ukraine has retaken territory, the ISW said. The Russian army regularly sends small groups of soldiers to take up positions along parts of the front line and hide there -- a tactic designed to pave the way for larger groups of troops to advance later.

Ukraine's gains in April and May -- around 403 square kilometres in total -- remain marginal, representing around 0.4 percent of the total territory held by Russia. But they nevertheless point to a positive trend for Kyiv, which has touted itself as having recently gained the upper hand in the four-year conflict.

"Ukraine's successful mid-range and frontline drone strike campaigns are limiting Russia's ability to transport personnel to the frontline and to supply and sustain frontline positions," the ISW reported last week.

Pak hikes its defence spending by 17.6%

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN on Friday hiked its defence spending by 17.6 per cent to PKRs 3,000 billion, marking a significant increase from last year.

Last year, the government allocated PKRs 2550 billion for defence, which was 20 per cent higher than the previous year. "The government has made a significant increase in the defence budget," Minister for Finance and Revenue Muhammad Aurangzeb said while presenting the budget 2026-27 before the National Assembly.

Aurangzeb said that the total federal budget is estimated at PKRs 18,771 billion and the "GDP growth target is 4 per cent". Among the key expenses, the federal government will spend PKRs 8,054 billion on debt service and interest payments. Another PKRs 1169 billion has been allocated for pension expenditure and PKRs 1091 billion for subsidies.

The size of the federal government Public Sector Development Program (PSDP) has been set at PKRs 1,000 billion for the next fiscal year.

Among the income, the Federal Board of Revenue (FBR) has set a tax collection target of PKRs 15,264 billion, while the government expects to generate PKRs 5,336 billion in non-tax revenue. PTI

US to slash jets, warships to NATO in Europe: Report

NEW YORK

THE United States plans to slash the number of fighter jets and warships it provides to NATO in Europe, the New York Times reported on Thursday.

The reported cutbacks come as European nations race to bolster their defense capacities since Russia's full-scale invasion of Ukraine in 2022 sparked fears that Moscow could attack a NATO country.

US President Donald Trump has called the alliance a "paper tiger" and its members "cowards" in frustration that they have not joined the US-Israeli war against Iran.

Washington plans to reduce the number of fighter jets it supplies to Europe by one third, cut all eight aerial refueling tankers and reduce maritime reconnaissance aircraft, the New York Times reported, citing two unidentified senior European officials.

Other assets to be reallocated include a missile-launching submarine, an aircraft carrier, a group of bomber aircraft and several jets and warships.

The US European Command said this month that it would reassess Washington's contributions to NATO to "ensure Europe takes primary responsibility for its own conventional defence."

The 32-member NATO bloc was founded in 1949 and its collective security is based on the principle that if one member is attacked, the entire alliance comes to its defence.

US Secretary of State Marco Rubio said last week that Trump will attend a NATO summit in Turkey in July. Rubio described it as "probably the most important meeting in NATO's history." AFP

David Hockney, contemporary master of bold colours no more

LONDON

BRITISH artist David Hockney's paintings captured the world in brilliant colour, from carefree 1960s California to the bucolic landscapes of his native Yorkshire.

Hockney, who died Thursday aged 88, always retained his Yorkshire burr and a determined liking for fish and chips and cigarettes as he grew to be "perhaps the most popular and versatile British artist of the 20th century", in the words of Britain's Tate gallery.

His agent Erica Bolton described Hockney as "one of the most important figures in contemporary art in both the 20th and 21st centuries," adding he had "passed away peacefully at home" in London on Thursday a month before his 89th birthday.

He leaves behind a huge body of works.

In 2018, his iconic swimming pool picture, "Portrait of an Artist (Pool with Two Figures)" sold for $90.3 million in New York, setting a new auction record for a living artist. He was unseated by Jeff Koons's "Rabbit" a year later.

Born in 1937 to working-class parents in the northern English town of Bradford, Hockney went against the conventions of post-war Britain, realising at an early age that he was gay and that he wanted to be an artist.

"It used to be you couldn't be gay. Now you can be gay but you can't smoke. There's always something," he told the Guardian in 2015.

As a young man, Hockney was a conscientious objector and did his military service as a hospital orderly, before studying at the Bradford School of Art and then London's Royal College of Art from 1959.

Works such as "We Two Boys Together Clinging" boldly referenced same-sex relations at a time when they were taboo.

EU to ban airline charges for seats next to children

Brussels: Airlines will be banned from charging parents to get seats next to their children under an EU reform of passenger rights agreed on Friday that stopped short of more divisive changes, diplomats said. EU countries had wanted to trim the compensation air carriers currently have to pay out for cancelled flights and long delays. But the plans were ditched after months of negotiations, having met fierce resistance from European lawmakers.

Afghans scrap protest plans amid fears of crackdown

HERAT

AFGHANS scrapped protest plans in Herat on Friday as heavily armed security forces were deployed in the city, after an earlier rally against tightening restrictions on women was violently dispersed.

An AFP journalist saw military vehicles stationed around the city and patrolling the area where a demonstration had been called for Friday afternoon. "People gave up on the demonstration today to prevent more bloodshed," said a 34-year-old teacher, who along with other residents AFP is not naming for safety reasons.

The deployment followed a crackdown launched by the morality police on Saturday, during which dozens of women were arrested for not wearing the body-cloaking chador or burqa. At least two people were killed in a protest held by residents days later, UN experts said. Police have denied that any weapons were used during the demonstration. On Friday, the AFP journalist also saw armed police officers patrolling on motorcycles and additional checkpoints where intelligence agents were present. "Even the movement of a small number of people from one area became difficult due to these security measures," said the teacher.

SRUTHI HEMACHANDRAN

WITH his parents looking on proudly, Sai Akhil Anand moved from one artwork to another, pausing occasionally to inspect a texture or take in the finished result. While his family is widely recognised for excellence in chess, Sai has been building a creative identity of his own. The 15-year-old artist seemed completely at home among the zebras, giraffes, tigers and mythological figures that populate his canvases, to be displayed at Gallery G, Lav-elle Road on Saturday.

The exhibition, titled Bindu and Rekha (Sanskrit for dot and line) brings together his nearly 40 works created over the past few years, ranging from conservation-themed pieces to interpretations of stories from the Ramayana and Mahabharata, brought to life through dots, dashes and recurring motifs.

The idea for the exhibition began with a close observation of the world around him. "When I looked around the garden and outdoors, I realised there were many patterns in nature. I was reading books like Patterns in Nature by Philip Ball and discovered these patterns in animals – the stripes of a zebra, a tiger, a squirrel, the markings of a giraffe and the spots of a deer," he shares.

These discoveries gradually became the foundation of his artistic practice. Rather than seeing animals merely as subjects, Sai began viewing them as arrangements of rhythm and form. Wildlife is the heart of the exhibition. "When I started watching documentaries by David Attenborough, I developed a strong love for animals. I started studying animals from different regions, such as Asia and Africa – the kinds of animals I focus on in my work," he says. The collection bears the imprint of countless hours spent observing and learning about wildlife, be it Circle of Love, which depicts giraffes in a lush landscape, or Zebra Crossing, which transforms one of nature's most recognisable patterns into a visual study. His favourite work in the exhibition, Scribble Species, reflects his concern for the fragility of wildlife.

His parents have played a steady role in his journey, mainly through travel and early exposure to nature. Safaris and trips, including a visit to Gir National Park in Gujarat, helped him observe animals more closely. Son of chess legend Viswanathan Anand and Aruna Anand, the young artist sees an unexpected connection between chess and art. "There are patterns in chess and here, I'm bringing patterns into life. The idea was to show black-and-white animals against a coloured background because I grew up in a house full of black-and-white chess pieces," he shares, adding that his parents' response to his growing interest in art was encouraging. His inspiration also extends to mythology. In his Sita series, he explores ideas from the Ramayana by breaking them into repeated visual elements as dot and dash, Bindu and Rekha, the title of this exhibition.

He also refers to artists and wildlife conservation figures like renowned wildlife artist and conservationist David Shepherd and Indian artist Manisha Agarwal as people he looks up to. These influences, along with his interest in wildlife, have also moulded his thoughts about the future, where he feels drawn towards working in the field of wildlife conservation, even though he is still figuring things out. Balancing school with art continues to be a challenge but he's prepared to do what it takes. Straightforward, Sai says, "It takes a lot of hard work and patience. That is something I am still learning as I continue working on this exhibition."

Laugh O'Clock

After years of navigating cinema, theatre and comedy, Karthik Kumar returns to B'loru with his fifth standup special, Good Timing Ji, a reflection on luck, vulnerability and untold stories from his film career

ANJALI RAM

SOMETIMES a joke lands in a matter of seconds. Just a blend of pause, a reaction, a perfectly placed punchline and suddenly a room full of strangers is laughing together. But for actor-standup comedian, Karthik Kumar, it goes beyond the collective laughter that emerges from a punchline. Known for films like Yaaradi Nee Mohini and Annapoorani and the recent web series Heart Beat, he is now touring with his fifth stand-up special, Good Timing Ji, with his show in Bengaluru on Sunday. "Good timing represents to me what I didn't have for the longest time. When I finally have it right now, I realise, 'Oh, this is good timing'. Everybody wishes for good timing, but they don't know if they have it until they lose it, or find it again," he says, adding, "And of course, good timing is what every joke is designed to be. When it lands, it's good timing."

Interestingly, his comedy often comes from uncomfortable places – awkward moments, difficult phases and life's contradictions. "My writing process is autobiographical. I document what's happening in my life, trusting that even if audiences don't know my story, they'll connect it to something happening in theirs," he says.

This way of working has also framed how he uses personal experiences in his work. "I try to get as much of my real life into comedy without giving out personal details. I want to be vulnerable and say, 'This is what happened, this is how it was'. But I'm careful because some truths involve other people," he explains.

His latest special looks back at his 25-year journey in the film industry, including the parts audiences may not have seen. "I couldn't say a lot of things earlier because people would think it was sour grapes or that I was complaining because I didn't win," he says, noting success gives him a platform to talk about the difficult parts of the journey. "I'll tell you about the other side of it that you don't know. It's a fun look at something that people are probably going to see again, now through me," he adds.

For him, comedy also remains a space for conversation. With many comedians facing backlash for jokes that landed at crossroads, he believes comedians today have to be more thoughtful about what they say.

Navigating life as an actor and comedian, he believes, is like 'apples' and 'oranges', yet a space to validate the storyteller in him. "In standup comedy, the validation is instant, because a joke ends with a laugh. It is an on and off button, more like a social experience, whereas cinema is personal," Kumar points out.

Having performed extensively in Bengaluru, he didn't forget to credit the city. "Bengaluru is probably the safest space to try experimental, intelligent and new thoughts in comedy," he says.

As Kumar gears up to perform, he is particularly clear about what he wants the audience to leave with – the one thought that luck may come their way, but preparation matters. "The last ingredient in life is waiting, that's all. To feel ready and to be ready. Even when luck is not on your side. You need to be ready and lucky," he signs off.

C. Krishniah Chetty Enters Digital Investment Segment with 'MoneyPenny'

In a move to tap evolving consumer preferences for flexible and digital-first savings instruments, C. Krishniah Chetty has launched MoneyPenny, an investment-linked jewellery plan, marking its entry into the digital investment segment. The company describes the offering as a smartphone-first platform aimed at younger and digitally inclined consumers.

The plan allows customers to invest starting ₹100, with no upper limit, without any fixed instalment schedule, or penalties for irregular contributions. It is accessible via a mobile application and across the company's retail stores. It's an anytime payment, any amount, any number of instalments as their clients wish.

MoneyPenny enables accumulation based on averaged prices of not only gold, but also on diamonds, platinum, and silver over an 11-month tenure. The platform uses a "Smart Averaging" mechanism to track precious metal across contributions, aimed at reducing the impact of market fluctuations. At maturity, customers receive the benefit of the lower of the averaged or prevailing market rates, offering a hedge against price volatility.

The offering includes incentives such as returns of up to 12% per annum, 24% per annum on the first instalment made during the customer's birth month and surprise benefit on maturity. With no lock-in clients may use accumulated monies anytime as well, prior to maturity (without benefits). The company said there are no management fees, and users can track their investments in real time through the app. Customers can redeem accumulated value across categories including gold, diamond and platinum jewellery, or silverware, gemstones, and accessories at maturity.

"We are seeing a shift in how customers approach jewellery purchases, with greater preference for flexibility and digital convenience," said Dr. C Vinod Hayagriv, Managing Director, C. Krishniah Chetty Group. "MoneyPenny is designed to address this by allowing customers to build value at their own pace while staying connected to real-time pricing across precious materials, simply on their smart phone. With real-time view on rates, and accumulated weights of precious metals." The launch comes as jewellery retailers increasingly explore structured savings and investment-linked products to engage younger, digitally inclined consumers.

FIVE PRACTICES FOR BETTER POSTURE

Better posture is not about forcing your back to stay straight all day. Long hours of sitting, laptop work, phone use and low movement can make the chest feel tight, the upper back stiff, and the shoulders rounded. A good posture practice should improve awareness, mobility, strength and control. These five simple practices can help the body hold itself with more ease.

1. WALL ANGELS

Stand with your back close to a wall and feet slightly forward. Keep the ribs relaxed. Bend the elbows like a goalpost and slowly slide the arms up and down the wall, only as far as comfortable. Do not force the shoulders. Repeat 5 to 8 times.

2. CHAIR-SUPPORTED PUPPY POSE

Stand facing a chair. Place both hands on the chair backrest or seat. Step the feet back, bend the knees slightly, and move the hips back. Let the chest soften down while keeping the spine long. Avoid pushing into the lower back. Stay for 3 to 5 breaths.

3. MARJARYASANA-BITILASANA (CAT-COW POSE)

Come on your hands and knees, with hands under shoulders and knees under hips. Inhale and gently lift the chest. Exhale and round the back slowly. Repeat 8 to 10 times. This helps improve spinal mobility.

4. SALABHASANA VARIATION (PRONE W LIFT)

Lie on your stomach. Bend the elbows in a 'W' shape. Keep the forehead or gaze down. Gently lift the chest and arms slightly, drawing the shoulder blades back. Do not strain the neck or lower back. Repeat 5 to 8 times.

5. BIRD DOG

Come on your hands and knees. Extend one leg back. If steady, extend the opposite arm forward. Keep the hips level and avoid arching the lower back. Hold for 2 to 3 breaths and change sides.

Move slowly and breathe normally. If there is sharp pain, dizziness, numbness or discomfort that increases, stop and seek professional advice.

The most human story about aliens

PRASHANTH VALLAVAN

DISCLOSURE Day is undoubtedly one of the most human films about extraterrestrial intelligence. There are two factions at loggerheads in the film: the whistleblowers who want to tell the world that they are not alone in the universe. And there is a powerful shadow organisation called Wardex, which has been hiding the secret and exploiting it for decades. And these two factions represent the most human characteristics. No other living organism on Earth is more obsessed with control, whether it is controlling members of its own species or its environment, than humans. This is represented by Wardex. No other living organism on Earth is as actively trying to understand the other as humans are. In pursuit of this, and despite our immense capacity for violence and destruction, humans have developed language and subsequently built civilisations, just so they can connect with others. And this anything. There is also no clear understanding of why the truth was kept secret for so long or why the aliens stayed in the shadows until the events of the film. They seem to possess incredible technologies, one that could manipulate reality, people's feelings towards someone, and invisibility? (The capabilities of the alien technology are wildly flexible depending on what the script needs at the time) And they still choose to rely on a group of maverick whistleblowers, instead of, I don't know, slowly making the people comfortable with the idea of life beyond Earth by subtly engineering pop culture propaganda, through genius filmmakers, over several decades?

Disclosure Day discusses a lot more, like the role of faith in all of this, with Jane's (Eve Hewson) conversation with the nun. However, it fails to discuss a number of other basic questions we have with its story. How do we trust the aliens' intentions? What is Wardex's side of the argument? What is the correlation between the aliens' extreme empathy, their advanced intelligence, and their relentless efforts to study and connect with the humans? Interestingly, the film works if you look at it as a bleak scenario about an alien invasion through psychological manipulation. Through this lens, the final line of the film feels incredibly chilling. It cuts to black with Margaret (after receiving instructions from an alien), standing in front of the camera and saying to the world, "Listen." The abruptness of the ending makes the word fall on us like a command. Is the film trying to say that humanity has now lost its agency?

Speaking of Emily Blunt, she gives a performance worthy of every accolade. Her work in the film is only rivalled by Steven Spielberg himself, who, once again, proves that he is the master of blocking and composition, making sure not a second of your attention spills over. Legendary composer John Williams is a delightful companion throughout the film. Disclosure Day leaves you with a lot of questions and some unfinished thoughts. It felt like an espionage thriller was coming in the way of a much better story about humanity facing the biggest answers to its most ancient question. The biggest problem with the film is that it leaves you wanting more, and its biggest strength is that it is interesting enough to make you wish for more.

A SHARADHAA

ONE of the first images in Mruthyudevathe is of a village youngster dreaming about Bengaluru. Not the Bengaluru of traffic, rent and survival, but the Bengaluru of parties, women and limitless freedom. Director Naveen Mahadev E, who also plays a major role in the film, uses this fantasy as a launchpad for a story about lust, betrayal and retribution.

The problem is that while the film wants to condemn the objectification of women, it spends most of its runtime indulging in it. The film follows Kishore and Anshu, young men whose understanding of women rarely extends beyond conquest. They fantasise, pursue and speak about women as though they are prizes waiting to be won. This could have worked had the film maintained a critical distance from their behaviour. Instead, scene after scene repeats the same attitudes without offering enough perspective to challenge them. The result is a film that often appears fascinated by the very behaviour it claims to criticise.

Deepa's story forms the emotional spine of the narrative. Her relationship with Kishore begins on familiar romantic lines before gradually revealing itself as something far uglier. The farmhouse episode is where the film finally finds a sense of purpose. The betrayal she experiences, and the painful realisation that the man she trusts values his friends' approval more than her dignity, provide the film with its strongest moments. The track involving Aarti, a delivery executive, and Anshu's girlfriend attempting to uncover the truth adds some momentum to an otherwise uneven screenplay. Yet, even here, Mruthyudevathe struggles to see events from a woman's perspective. The women are frequently reduced to plot devices that exist to trigger guilt, revenge or emotional breakdowns in the men around them. For a film that repeatedly speaks about respecting women, it offers surprisingly little agency to its female characters.

The contradiction becomes even more evident in the performances and staging. Naveen Mahadev E's own screen presence often works against the film's stated intentions. Several scenes involving the male characters are staged with a crudeness that feels less like a critique of misogyny and more like an extension of it. A few moments featuring Mahin Kuber, Madhu Surya and Naveen himself are particularly distasteful, making it difficult to invest in the moral position the film eventually adopts. The first half is stretched thin, with multiple scenes driving home the same point. The second half introduces horror and revenge elements, finally injecting some urgency into the proceedings. The titular Mruthyudevathe emerges as a force of divine justice, punishing men who treat women as disposable.

While these portions are more engaging, the impact is diluted because the film has already spent so much time indulging its problematic male gaze.

Among the cast, Sarika Rao, Dayana Jessika and Hima Mohan bring sincerity to their roles despite the limitations of the writing. One only wishes the film had trusted its female characters with more depth and emotional complexity. Veteran actor Vinaya Prasad's presence, meanwhile, feels largely ornamental, with the screenplay giving her very little to do. Mruthyudevathe has a relevant idea at its centre. A story about consent, betrayal and divine justice should have made for a compelling drama. Instead, the film gets trapped in its own contradictions. It wants to speak for women while repeatedly reducing them to objects. It wants to condemn toxic masculinity while often revelling in it. The intention may be noble, but the execution rarely rises above the very behaviour it seeks to criticise.

AKSHAY KUMAR

HORROR in today's cinema is entering newer dimensions, especially since there are only so many ways you can show an exorcism. Backrooms is a welcome and intelligent addition to this welcome list of films. The journey, carved from a cool internet theory, into the maze of memories and trauma, is chilling. What can be scarier than living in your head, and being left alone?

The film begins with a furniture store proprietor, Clark (Chiwetel Ejiofor), speaking to his therapist, Mary Kline (Renate Reinsve), about how bad and ungrateful it was to be driven away from his own house by his ex-wife. His finding a dwelling place in his store is reflective of his lack of belonging and his shrinking of his world inside the store. The problem is, his dwelling too gets very attached to him.

Full marks to the production design team for the seamless integration of physical construction and digital fabrication. The pale yellow used in the backrooms heightens the anxiety about the lack of inhabitation. This colour palette and the vastness of space were effective in making Clark and Kline look like tiny, vulnerable creatures in need of protection. While horrors centred around an apparition or entity thrive on making far-fetched supernatural elements believable, Backrooms makes you fidget further with a close-to-reality proposition of walking into the maze of memories. And, finding your way out of the maze is not the fix here, but if you actually want to do that?

With a horde of issues taking you apart and preventing you from living in the present, what if you quit and retreat into literally living in your head without getting judged for it?

What Backrooms also gets right is the well-fleshed-out character stories for both Clark and Kline. While Clark still couldn't fathom how unceremoniously he was thrown out of his house and the self-image of faultlessness, Kline is still unable to outrun the memories of her abusive mother. Perhaps story devices like this are what make the film stand out, say, in comparison to another ambient horror film like Vivarium, where you don't really get to know the people but just the scares they are subjected to. Kane Parsons is beautifully consistent with evoking horror both visually and viscerally, armed with liminal intoxication and an arresting human story. The spaces (portions of the film in this context) where the visuals shift from a polished, static-shot cinematography to hand-held camerawork peculiar to the 90s deliver a giddy thrill of childhood, where you sit in a circle with your friends and share scary stories.

Performances, especially Ejiofor's after entering the backrooms, were disturbing and impressive. The dialogues where delusion camouflages as clarity like, 'This is every place there has ever been' and 'I got right where I am supposed to be' sounds enticing enough for people going through their bout of loneliness to fancy getting lost in the labyrinth of yellow hallways, with no pressure of moving on. Why bother burdening each other with communication? As Reinsve's Mary helplessly runs around the warren in this non-place, you feel so disoriented, wondering about the veritability of existence itself. The strobe effects in these spaces grow visceral enough to stop you second-guessing the screenplay's choices as the plot thickens, rendering you numb and in an almost trance-like state.

Kane Parsons' brilliant attempt to breathe life into the internet myth of the backrooms through human drama functions much like the human mind and the internet itself: a liminal space where every corridor leads to another question, another memory, another rabbit hole.

From going to absurd lengths to be with a person instead of doing the basic thing, 'to talk' (Obsession), to retreating from the world itself rather than confronting another human being in Backrooms, youngsters Curry Barker and Kane Parsons seem fascinated by a similar idea: the horrors the mind creates when communication breaks down. Whether this marks a new wave remains to be seen, but they have certainly reimaged psychological horror for a generation raised on internet anxieties and isolation. This has the potential to lead to a Jacob's Ladder or A Beautiful Mind for this generation. But horror is in safe hands, nonetheless.

Doddmansa locks release date

CE FEATURES

AT the trailer launch of Doddmansa, actor-director Sharath Krishna opened up about how when you set out to become an actor, the struggle helps you understand the importance of perseverance and family support.

Ahead of its theatrical release on June 19, the trailer of Doddmansa was unveiled at a grand event, giving audiences a glimpse into a commercial entertainer packed with action, emotion and romance. Boys Never Compromise finds its cast after 150 auditions

THE journey of Boys Never Compromise began long before the cameras rolled. Director Harish Jalagere and his team auditioned close to 150 aspirants before finalising a cast of more than twenty newcomers, many of whom come from Karnataka's growing YouTube short-film ecosystem. That search for fresh faces has become one of the key stories behind the film.

Making his directorial debut

Chandan Shetty lends his voice to the film's energetic Boys Anthem; release set for July after producing Just Madveli and Rajannana Maga, Harish has built the film around a largely new ensemble that includes Samrat, Nakshatra, Suprith Kati, Seetharam, Mandya Siddu, Rajeev Reddy, Umesh Kinnal, Gajendra, Hemanth Gowda and Rajaraja Chola.

Set against a horror-comedy backdrop, the story follows a group of boys whose carefree adventures take an unexpected turn when a ghost enters their lives. Alongside the laughs and supernatural elements, the film also carries a message.

While the cast introduces several fresh faces, the film's first promotional push comes through music. The recently released Boys Anthem, sung by Karnataka rap star Chandan Shetty, captures the film's youthful spirit and carefree attitude. The energetic number has quickly become the talking point of the campaign, offering audiences a taste of the film's fun-filled world.

Produced by Ujjwala Nagaraj Jalagere under the Marigold Studios banner, Boys Never Compromise consists of music by Loki Tavasya, background score by MS Thyagaraj, cinematography by Pramod Bharatiya and editing by Karthik Es-hwarachari. The film is slated for a July 10 release.
